Modi sets a new target of 10 lakh jobs in 18 months

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

WITH Prime Minister Narendra Modi issuing instructions to hire 10 lakh government employees in mission mode within 18 months, filling up of existing vacancies and creating new job opportunities climbed right on the top of the priority ladder of the government on Tuesday.

Modi issued the instructions after reviewing the status of human resources in all departments and ministries. As if on cue, the Cabinet Committee on Security approved a scheme to recruit soldiers for just four years. The scheme is expected to provide jobs to over 46,000 youth in a year (see box).

Political circles saw in Modi's announcement, an attempt to snatch the unemployment card away from the Opposition ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha elections. His 18-month deadline for jobs will end just four months before the general elections. It is also an acknowledgement that unemployment is a top-of-the-mind issue particularly among the youth.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi panned the Centre's drive as maha jumla (peddling rhetoric), saying it's similar to "the failed BJP promise made eight years ago to provide 2 crore jobs each year".

But home minister Amit Shah lauded the recruitment drive, saying the youth are the foundation of "new India", adding Modi has been constantly working to empower them.

As on March 1, 2020 the number of regular Central government civilian employees was 31.91 lakh as against the sanctioned strength of 40.78 lakh. In other words, about 21.75% posts were vacant. About 92% of the total Central jobs are provided by five major ministries or departments — railways, defence (civil), home affairs, posts and revenue.

Railways alone has 2,98,428 vacancies. Of them, 2,177 are gazetted posts, according to a recent reply to a query in the Lok Sabha by railway minister Ashwini Vaishnaw.

Railways has re-started the process to fill up about 50% of the vacancies — 1,40,713 posts, including 20,944 SCs and 10,930 for STs, sources said. Hiring was on hold for a while after violence following irregularities in exams under the Non-Technical Popular Categories a few months ago. The ministry has set the recruitment ball in motion again under this category across the country.

WANT TO BE AN AGNIVEER?

The Centre on Tuesday unveiled an Agnipath job scheme for armed forces

Age group: 17.5-21 yrs. Salary: ₹30K a month. 4-yr service. ₹48L insurance

They will be inducted into the force as Agniveers, a new rank, distinct from sepoys

They will be recruited under an "all India, all-class" basis as opposed to regiment model that recruits youth from specific regions and castes

At the end of the four-year period, 25% will be absorbed into the service and the rest will be relieved

Those retained will serve for 15 years more and retire with pension

Those relieved will get severance package of ₹10-12 lakh; no pension | P9

Names of Farooq, others in play for Oppn Prez pick

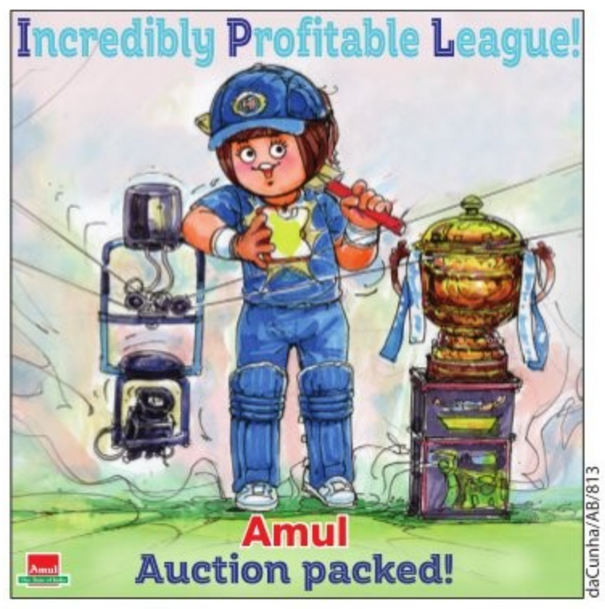
SANTWANA BHATTACHARYA @ New Delhi

IT'S that season when names swirl around like summer dust for the next incumbent of the mansion atop Raisina Hill. Who the Prime Minister smiles at or does namaste to is being watched with a hawk eye. The Opposition too is donning its armour—a contest is more or less certain, even if its numbers mean it will be symbolic.

Chief ministers—and a mentor of CMs—are trying to settle on a common Opposition candidate. Sharad Pawar is in the thick of the action, even as he slinks away from a contest himself. With Sonia Gandhi away in hospital and Rahul Gandhi busy fending off the ED's queries, it was left to Pawar to give some shape to the disaggregated Opposition army.

Pawar had powwows with both West Bengal CM Mamata Banerjee and her arch-foes, Left leaders Sitaram Yechury and D Raja, in Delhi. Other heavyweights will arrive on Wednesday.

Pawar is plumping for long-time friend Farooq Abdullah. The Left is once again keen on former Bengal governor Gopal Gandhi—he had dropped out last time after the Congress fielded Meira Kumar, and may or may not agree. Farooq is not unwilling. But the last word won't be said till Didi speaks her mind. Yashwant Sinha's name too was doing the rounds in that context! P9



2 schools in Bengaluru report Covid-19 clusters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

NEARLY a month after schools reopened, two Covid clusters have been found in two schools of Bengaluru's BBMP limits. In all, 31 students tested positive for Covid in rapid antigen tests, but the more-accurate RTPCR test reports of 21 of them returned negative. The schools are located in Rajagopalnagar ward of Dasarahalli zone.

Special Commissioner (Projects) Ravindra PN said, "21 students of Class 6 from New Standard English (NSE) School and 10 students of Class 5 from MES school tested positive for Covid when they were subjected to RAT."

The vaccination team visited the schools on June 9 and found a few students to be symptomatic. When RAT was conducted, they tested positive. Since it was a cluster, the samples were subjected to RTPCR tests. P3

Stalin's letter to PM on Mekedatu not legal: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

CALLING it a political stunt, CM Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday slammed the Tamil Nadu government for writing a letter to PM Narendra Modi seeking his intervention to restrain the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) from discussing the Mekedatu project.

Bommai said the Central Water Commission and Jal Shakthi Ministry had earlier put a condition that a detailed project report on the Mekedatu project has to be approved by CWMA.

The CM said TN has been placing hurdles for all Cauvery-related works and this is not new. "This letter is not authorised and the Union government will not accept their plea. There is no locus standi for the letter, which does not fall under the legal ambit. This demand is illegal. The Mekedatu project in no way involves Tamil Nadu's share of Cauvery water. It is our share," he asserted. P4

Challaghatta Station to be ready by August

Smallest Metro stn is 1.5km from Kengeri terminal

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

WITH almost all structural work complete and up to 40 per cent of finishing over, Challaghatta Metro Station is abuzz with activity 24x7. This will be smallest of all Metro stations of Phase-I and Phase-II, and was a belated addition to the Baiyappahalli-Kengeri Line. The station will be ready by August, and be opened by the year-end.

This elevated station, built at a cost of around Rs 33 crore, is 1.5 km from Kengeri Station, the present terminal of the Purple Line.

Assistant Engineer of Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) M Rajesh, who took the TNIE team for a walkthrough, said, "Challaghatta station, which has a total of ten piers (pillars), has a ground floor ticketing area and a first floor with two platforms for trains to operate. Unlike other Metro stations, it does not have a concourse. The length of platform is 135 metres, the same as in all stations. But the distance when one steps out of the coach to the stairs is just 65 metres, only half of that found in other stations." The station has only two flights of stairs, two lifts and an equal number of escalators.

Suma Limited is carrying out civil works, while M R Constructions is in charge of finishing works.

Asked why it ended up as the smallest station, Rajesh said that only an average of 500 to 600 commuters are expected to use it on a daily basis. "Students of RR Medical College, Dental College, a nearby Ayurveda Hospital, future residents of Nadaprabhu Kempegowda Layout and those at Doddabele will mainly benefit from it," he said.

The contract for Challaghatta depot, located adjacent to it, was awarded last month. Deputy Chief Engineer, BMRCL, Prakash Hegde said the contract is in an advanced stage. "The Letter of Agreement is likely to be handed over this month. It will take 2.5 years after that for the depot to be completed." BMRCL Managing Director Anjum Parwez said Challaghatta station would be in place by August, and they were looking at inspection by the Commissioner of Metro Rail Safety by September.

Theft of material common at site

The remotely located Challaghatta station is encountering an unusual problem: frequent theft of steel and iron rods used for different works across the station. "We require small bits of steel rods to ready the scaffolding structure as per need. The rods brought to make it ready are frequently carried away by unknown people. The contractor is forced to bring more to compensate for the loss," he said. The iron rods used for various other construction purposes, too, are stolen. No police case has been filed.

MOON FACE GETS A FACELIFT

ENS @ Bengaluru

A week after a video by TNIE of the Bengaluru-Mysuru Road riddled with potholes resembling Mars, the road has undergone a makeover after the officials fixed it.

The video, which went viral, had given sleepless nights to the civic body officials especially BBMP which became the prime target on social media. The Palike was attacked by a flood of memes since the road was under its jurisdiction.

Following a meeting, the Palike officials clarified that the road was under the National Highways Authority of India, and was at present under the ambit of the BMRCL which was working on the stretch for the Metro work. On June 7, TNIE photojournalist Shriram BN made a video of the road from the top angle. Little did he know the 23-second video will send ripples in a day. After a week, the BMRCL has now fixed the road.

BBMP to submit report to HC in two days

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

BBMP special commissioner, projects Ravindra PN on Tuesday said that they will submit a report on the condition of potholes to the High Court in two days. He said that so far over 13,400 potholes have been identified and most of them have been fixed.

Asked why potholes are filled when they are flagged in the media, like in the case of Mysuru Road, he said potholes are fixed as and when they are identified. Also the agencies which have taken over the roads, must ensure that they are maintained, including BMRCL. Also incase of roads being cut open or dug open for various works, notices are being issued, if permission has not been obtained.

On Idgah Maidan, joint commissioner, BBMP, west, Srinivasa said that to dispel doubts and obtain documents, a team has visited the Survey and Settlement Office. "We have taken copies of the records dated 1976, where the property belongs to BBMP. The claims and documents given by others pertaining to land ownership are being verified," he said. Srinivasa also said that VHP and other organisations had approached BBMP seeking permission to host Yoga Day and Independence Day which will be discussed with the police and head office for taking a decision. Untill then status quo will remain.

Bommai inspects infra works in Mahadevapura

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AHEAD of monsoon rains, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai undertook a city inspection and covered the Mahadevapura zone on Tuesday afternoon. Bommai was accompanied by BBMP Chief Commissioner Tushar Girinath and other officials during his surprise inspection.

First, Bommai inspected the newly constructed Kundanahalli underpass, the U-turn at Marathahalli bridge, 100 feet Road at Thubarahalli-Balagere junction and Panathur Railway underpass.

There has been a string of complaints from the companies and apartment complexes in Mahadevapura which hosts a number of IT colonies and startups regarding road infrastructure and traffic which led to MLA Arvind Limbavali has demanded for some more projects to be implemented.

The CM sought details of the underpass near Kundanahalli which was completed after delay to tackle the traffic snarls during peak hours at the junction.

Girinath told TNIE the underpass will be open to public after June 25. There were some minor issues with land acquisition as only two properties are to be cleared from the underpass connection, which was being done on a war-footing.

The CM also inspected the Panathur Railway underpass as the Railway department is making the bridge. Road widening has been undertaken by the BBMP for the motorists.

Then, the CM inspected Balagere Road-Thubarahalli Road as the roads were damaged due to the STP work, which has now been fixed. The CM reportedly directed the official to complete the pending work at the earliest.

"The CM came for a surprise inspection as I had asked for a date from him for inaugurating Kundanahalli underpass. To take a stock of the situation, the CM came in the afternoon. I was away for some other project's bhumi puja. This is to keep the officials on their toes," said Limbavali.

AAP INVITES PM TO SEE BENGALURU'S POTHOLES

Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) has organised a movement, demanding that PM Narendra Modi, who is visiting Mysuru for Yoga Day, visit Bengaluru to see the roads full of potholes. Briefing the press, Mohan Dasari, AAP Bengaluru City President, said the party will be organising a postcard movement, demanding that Modi take a look at Bengaluru's potholes.

Failure to return streedhan is breach of trust: HC

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

THE settlement arrived at for the purpose of annulment of marriage cannot mean that all articles that form 'streedhan', that the wife carries to the matrimonial house, can be retained by the family of the husband, the Karnataka High Court said. Failure to return streedhan would become criminal breach of trust, the court said.

Justice M Nagaprasanna passed the order while dismissing the petition filed by Ganesh Prasad Hegde and his parents from Mumbai, challenging criminal proceedings initiated against them by his wife Surekha Shetty, a city resident, for not returning her streedhan of Rs 9 lakh.

"None of the submissions made by the counsel appearing for the petitioners is tenable, as the undisputed fact is that streedhan of Rs 9 lakh was paid to the petitioner and his family, and the amount retained by them would necessarily be a matter for trial against the petitioners for offence punishable under Section 406 IPC, and it is for the petitioners to come clean in the trial," the court said.

In December 2007, Hegde filed a divorce petition on the ground of cruelty against his wife, which came to be dismissed. In February 2009, the petitioners raised a demand that streedhan of ₹9 lakh which was paid, be returned with interest at 9% per annum, beginning October 1998. When the petitioners failed to pay the amount, Surekha registered a private complaint in 2009 before the magistrate in Bengaluru, alleging criminal breach of trust.

This was challenged before the HC by Hegde and his parents, who filed a criminal petition seeking quashing of proceedings.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

15th June: I don't usually recommend books but I'm going to make an exception. I've been re-reading (for the fourth time!) an astonishing book called Northern Lights by Philip Pullman. It's full of weirdness, magic and mystery and should appeal to everyone who loves astrology - and who thinks for themselves. Wonderful stuff!

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Personal plans matter most, so don't let authority, society or other external pressures distort your judgment. Give a high priority to domestic plans and be aware of a tendency to stick your head in the sand at work. You can ignore intimate problems, but you can't make them go away!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
It's a useful day to travel, make contact and extend discussions which may have got off to a faltering start. Good communication is of the essence, and anyone attending interviews or other important meetings has a right to be confident.

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
For the next month or so you will be a walking social contradiction, apparently tremendously open and upfront but, in reality, keeping all your most important and intense feelings deeply hidden. However, consider this: if you want to communicate with loved ones you might have to be a little more direct.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
It's time to take control and insist that other people see things your way. This doesn't mean that you should ignore their interests, but it's about time you had a fair and unbiased hearing. Perhaps you should spend a little longer preparing your case.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Daydream to your heart's content, and don't let other people make you feel strange for wanting to spend time by yourself. At work, it's very much who you know rather than what you know that carries you through. There's nothing wrong in exploiting personal contacts - is there?

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Your social stars become stronger, which means that even at work it is personal relationships which count for the most. Look at the long-term, making every effort to broaden your horizons. Besides, there's a surprise just around the corner.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
It's time to be more forthright about your ambitions, including professional aspirations. Also, bear in mind that you can no longer shrug off partners' desires, for there appear to be deeper issues at stake than you once thought. Not that it's a bad thing, mind you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
You may check out the legal situation, putting the emphasis on your own rights, but not forgetting your responsibilities. Don't let other people make the running when it comes to setting standards, for their view of what should and shouldn't be done is less rigorous than yours.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
This is an adventurous moment, and you should know now that you can't be held back by social taboos which have lost their meaning. Your competitive instincts must be released if you are to come out on top. However, it's not so much a matter of finishing first, as of doing the best job.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Partnership affairs are central to your life today, so you really should attempt to reach a compromise. Partners and colleagues may be muddled, or they may be unable to express themselves clearly, but that doesn't diminish the relevance of their message.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
There's so much planetary activity in the lower reaches of your chart that maximum change must be expected at home. It could be about another twelve weeks before you're clear about what your part must be. People could be coming and going, but what you really need is security.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You should rummage around in the recesses of your character, searching out those qualities which are business like, organised and efficient. Then you'll be able to divert extravagant stars into the cause of boosting your income. And I can think of no more worthwhile exercise!

Animals too can contract the virus; Ancovax can protect them

Chetana Belagere @ Bengaluru

THE Technical Advisory Committee intends to collaborate with the Institute of Animal Health & Veterinary Biologicals for a study on the possibility of humans contracting Covid-19 from pets. Experts say though chances are quite low, a few studies found that it is not impossible. Recently, a study showed a veterinarian in Thailand had contracted coronavirus from an infected pet cat last year, which is also the first suspected case of cat-to-human transmission. The study also said cats are far more likely to catch the virus from people, than transmitting it to humans. However, in case a pet is infected, it is necessary to take precautions, experts say.

According to sources, at a meeting last week, TAC experts requested the state health department to send out a reminder to seek the status of the project report on the demand for animal surveillance. The TAC had in March sought the IAH&VB, Hebbal, to conduct a study and surveillance for Covid-19 in animals in zoos, national parks, game sanctuaries and others having close interaction with humans.

"TAC recommends a health joint risk assessment for Covid-19, involving IAH&VB, NCBS, NIV and other institutions. To begin with, a workshop or meeting is to be convened in the DoHFW as soon as possible," the earlier recommendation had said in March.

Recently, there was a study from Thailand, post which experts from TAC apparently sought that animal surveillance be taken up to rule out the possibility of pets spreading Covid-19. "Though it is rare, there have been a few studies where minks, cats, lions and a few other animals have contracted Covid-19. In this background, we had sought a study by the institute to see if animals can be a source of infection. We are waiting for the report to be submitted to TAC," said Dr Sudarshan MK, Chairman, TAC.

Interestingly, Hisar-based National Research Centre on Equines has come up with a vaccine called Ancovax, which can protect animals against Delta and Omicron variants of SARS-CoV-2. This can be used for dogs, lions, leopards, mice and rabbits, and is the first Covid vaccine for animals developed in India. Scientists from the Indian Council of Agricultural Research had earlier told the media, "The vaccine can protect animals in a zoo. It can also prevent transmission from companion animals to humans."

Last year, one Asiatic lion in Chennai had contracted the virus, and it was suspected that another had died due to it. A leopard cub and three wild Asiatic lions were also found dead, and then tested positive for Covid-19.

'Schools can reopen after sanitisation'

THE RTPCR reports of NSE School students arrived on June 11 and all of them were negative, while RTPCR reports of MES students are still awaited. In the meantime, the samples of all their classmates were tested and they are negative.

BBMP officials asked students of only Class 6 of NSE school and Class 5 of MES to stay at home.

Palike officials met officials from the education department and private schools association, and directed them to intensify Standard Operating Procedures at all schools and colleges in the city. The Palike has also made wearing of masks mandatory for children.

BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) Dr Trilok Chandra said, "The schools are permitted to reopen once the sanitisation process is complete. Among children between 15 and 18 years, 79 per cent are vaccinated with the first dose and 69 per cent with the second dose. In the 12-14 age category, 82 per cent are vaccinated with the first dose and 39 per cent with the second dose. We plan to complete the vaccination of children by the month-end."

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar said, "Respective classes where the Covid cases are reported must be suspended, and Covid protocols followed. Since children of this age group are vaccinated and these are the variants of Omicron, parents need not be anxious."

POCSO proceedings against Bishop quashed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court has quashed the criminal proceedings initiated under the POCSO Act against Rt Rev Prasanna Kumar Samuel, Bishop, Church of South India, Karnataka Central Diocese (CSI KCD). Allowing the petition filed by the Bishop, Justice Hemant Chandangoudar quashed the proceedings which was initiated under the provisions of the POCSO Act in 2015 against him and four others based on a complaint filed by late Mary Susheela.

IN THE HC

The Cubbon Park police filed the chargesheet against four others in 2016 and the Bishop was left out since there was no material against him. However, the sessions court issued summons to the Bishop in December 2017. The court said the perusal of the chargesheet and the statement of the victim recorded clearly discloses that the petitioner is not involved in the commission of the offences. However, the magistrate "without perusing the chargesheet, without application of mind, issued the summons and the same is impermissible and is an abuse of process of law," the court added.

WITH EYE ON OLD MYSORE REGION, BJP LOOKS TO TAP 'BRAND MODI'

Party to organise mega rally of beneficiaries to hardsell welfare agenda, seek votes

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

WHILE Prime Minister Narendra Modi is coming to the City of Palaces to lead Yoga Day, the state BJP leadership has lined up a bigger agenda to tap 'Brand Modi', ahead of the 2023 assembly elections.

The BJP wants to win Karnataka and is concerned about its lack of presence in Old Mysore region, known to be a stronghold of rivals Congress and JDS.

The party now wants to play up the Modi charisma to virtually kickstart the party campaign, and is organising a mega convention of beneficiaries of the PM's welfare programmes, like Jan Dhan, Kissan Samman, Fasal Bima Yojana, Mudra Yojana, Jal Mission, and other populist schemes. Party insiders feel it is the right approach, and a reliable way of popularising Modi's achievements by showcasing beneficiaries instead of bringing crowds to the rally on June 20.

The proposed convention has gained significance in the light of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai claiming the party would seek votes based on the progress card. With Lingayat strongman B S Yediyurappa pushed into the wings after serving as chief minister four times, the party wants to play up Modi's face to win over the electorate. It has set itself the agenda of spreading saffron in Old Mysore, something it couldn't do in the previous election.

BJP City President Srivasta said there are plans to organise a beneficiaries' meeting to be addressed by PM Modi. The beneficiaries will be identified and the list will be sent to the block president, who in turn will approach and appeal to them to take part in the rally.

He said that government departments will be responsible for bringing the beneficiaries. The mega rally will give a big fillip to the party in the run-up to polls, and they will seek votes on the BJP's clean governance and performance.

District Minister ST Somashekar said they have prepared a blueprint for the beneficiaries' programme, and a meeting will be held to decide on how many people should be mobilised, including beneficiaries of Central government projects in the past three years.

He said all precautionary measures will be taken to make the mega-event organised and successful. However, he said they are yet to get a confirmation from the Prime Minister's Office and a clear picture will evolve in two days.

DELHI ACTION

IS IT A DEMOCRACY, ASK CONGRESS LEADERS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

SENIOR Congress leaders in Karnataka slammed the Delhi police for manhandling party leaders and arresting them while they were on their way to the Congress office in the national capital.

"Police manhandled DK Suresh, Dinesh Gundu Rao and others. We don't know if this is a democracy or a police state. This is violation of fundamental rights," leader of opposition Siddaramaiah said condemning the police action against Congress leaders protesting the Enforcement Directorate (ED) action against party leader Rahul Gandhi.

"Do we have an emergency situation in the country?" Siddaramaiah asked. He accused the police of ill-treating the party leaders, who were taken to the police station. Terming the ED probe as political vendetta, the senior Congress leader said they are protesting against the politically motivated action by the government.

State Congress president DK Shivakumar said party workers from across the country are expressing displeasure over the ED action against the party leaders. "Is it a democracy? Is it not an injustice to arrest leaders going to the party office?" he questioned.

Shivakumar said they had never seen such low-level politics and the situation is worse than the emergency. "Our leaders have not done anything wrong and we will continue with our protests," he said.

The Congress leader questioned the need for questioning Rahul Gandhi for 10 hours. "Why was he questioned for 10 days? What was his mistake?" he said. Responding to Higher Education Minister Dr C N Ashwanth Narayan's remarks that those who took part in the protest rally will end up in Tihar Jail, the Congress leader said Narayan is the most corrupt education minister in the country and he will respond to him at an appropriate time.

Araga slams protest rally

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Udupi

KARNATAKA Home Minister Araga Jnanendra said laws are equal for all and it is not a different one for the Congress.

"When the court summons, the person should appear and give statement. If he is proven innocent, the court will let the person free or if the person is found guilty, he will have to face the law. Why are Congress leaders taking to the streets to protest when their leader Rahul Gandhi is being questioned by the Enforcement Directorate? Let their leader answer the questions posed by the investigating officers," he told reporters here on Tuesday. He said people are watching the behaviour of Congress leaders in the country.

Regarding BJP leader Yashpal Suvarna getting threats to his life, Jnanendra said the police are keeping a watch. To a query, he said there was no need for bulldozer demolitions in Karnataka like in Uttar Pradesh as people in Karnataka are law biding.

Regarding plans to ban organisations like PFI and SDPI in the state, Jnanendra said the idea has not been dropped. "We will keep reporting about the development taking place in the state to the Centre. Further action will be taken as and when the time comes," he said.

Ex-CM faces flak for tweet on Hedgewar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

FORMER chief Minister and Congress leader Siddaramaiah faced a lot of flak on Twitter after his tweet that RSS founder KB Hedgewar had no role in the Quit India Movement.

He had tweeted that Hedgewar had joined with the British. He said this in the context of opposing the BJP for misusing institutions like the Enforcement Directorate to target political opponents.

Siddaramaiah was objecting to ED over the questioning of the Gandhis in connection with the money laundering probe linked to the National Herald case. While some were extremely critical of the former CM, and said Hedgewar died in 1940 so how can he participate in the Quit India Movement.

Siddaramaiah's supporters were quick to respond that it was an inadvertent slip and what the former CM sought to inform was that the Hindu Mahasabha\RSS had nothing significant by way of participation in the freedom struggle which is an established historical fact and the BJP leaders need to understand that.

UPBEAT MOOD

After clinching RS, BJP starts spadework for BBMP polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

UPBEAT over its victory in the Rajya Sabha polls, the BJP is all set to make preparations for the BBMP election which is likely to be held either in the last week of September or the first week of October.

After Prime Minister Narendra Modi's scheduled visit to the state for the Yoga Day celebrations in Mysuru, the party leadership is expected to hold a series of meetings with MLAs, defeated candidates and leaders of all the 28 assembly seats that fall under BBMP limits.

Besides ministers who represent constituencies in the city, party leaders will be appointed in charge of segments with an assignment to identify the ideal candidates and ensure their victory. The party, which could not win a simple majority last time, has a plan to cross the mark by winning over half the 243 seats to form the ruling party in the BBMP on its own which is crucial ahead of the 2023 assembly polls, sources said.

As the prestige of Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai will be at stake, ministers R Ashok, V Somanna, K Gopalaiah and S T Somashekar will be given the task to ensure more seats from their respective assembly segments, they added.

Meanwhile, the Justice Bhaktavatsalam commission has to give its report to the court to fix the OBC quota and without which the polls are unlikely, according to sources.

'CM Ibrahim's scapegoat remark not in good taste'

Bengaluru: Former Deputy Chairman of Rajya Sabha K Rehman Khan on Tuesday said the Modi government is abusing and misusing the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in the National Herald case. On the recent Rajya Sabha polls wherein his son Mansoor Khan was the loosing Congress candidate, he said the statement by JDS state president C M Ibrahim that Mansoor had been made a "scapegoat" was not in good taste. He said, "C M Ibrahim has absolutely no idea about deliberations that took place with JDS supremo H D Deve Gowda and former CM H D Kumaraswamy, before the candidate Mansoor Khan had filed his nomination." TN deliberately causing hindrance: Min

THE authority has conducted 15 meetings, but the TN government did not attend any of them. The 16th and final meeting of CWMA will be held on June 17 and it will be attended by officials from Karnataka, TN, Puducherry and Kerala.

TN CM MK Stalin on Monday wrote to Modi, seeking his intervention to restrain CWMA from discussing the Mekedatu project during its meeting on June 17.

Calling it a political stunt, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Tuesday slammed the Tamil Nadu government for writing a letter to Prime Minister Narendra Modi seeking his intervention to restrain the Cauvery Water Management Authority (CWMA) from discussing the Mekedatu project.

Water Resources Minister Govind Karjol said they have already sent the DPR on Mekedatu project to officials concerned. The Union Jal Shakthi Ministry too said it will review the DPR and take the next course of action as per law. "The Tamil Nadu government is deliberately causing hindrance to projects taken up by Karnataka in the Cauvery basin. The letter sent by Stalin is illegal. As per the Supreme Court order, 4.75 tmcft can be used for drinking water needs of Bengaluru. Our DPR is based on the Supreme Court order and it has nothing to do with Tamil Nadu's share of water. We are releasing Tamil Nadu's share of water fully and not a single drop less than that."

Congress leaders from Karnataka too slammed Stalin's letter to Modi.

Baraguru part of tukde-tukde gang, says Nagesh

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Davangere

CALLING former chairman of the Karnataka State Textbooks Revision Committee, Baraguru Ramachandrappa, as part of 'tukde-tukde gang', Primary and Secondary Education Minister B C Nagesh said that the gang aims to harm the country and hoist the Pakistan flag in India.

Addressing the media over Jawaharlal Nehru University professors writing a letter to the education department, he said the JNU professors have little knowledge of Kannada textbooks, but have made comments about them with the sole intention of dividing India through a letter to the Department of Education. The minister further said the state government has already distributed about 75 per cent of the revised textbooks. On the objections raised by several seers on wrong information of the 12th century social reformer Basaveshwara in social science textbook, he said that the Rohit Chakratirtha Committee has retained the old text which was approved by Baraguru Ramachandrappa committee and the doubts raised by seers have been addressed.

When asked about the vaccination percentage of students, he said children aged between 6-12 years have to be vaccinated and the government will expedite the issue.

Citizens' group seeks resignation of minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A citizens' group, Bahutva Karnataka, has demanded the resignation of Education Minister BC Nagesh for his alleged failure in fulfilling his ministerial role. "We condemn his mishandling of education during the Covid crisis, failure to address malnutrition and his complicity in weaponising education."

The pandemic resulted in a large number of dropouts and increased learning gaps. The government's own data shows that of the 46,000 children who dropped out, only 35 per cent have rejoined school.

They said the National Health and Family Welfare Survey reveals that 35.4 per cent of children in Karnataka suffer from stunting and 32.9 per cent are underweight. Though several institutions have suggested eggs be given to school students, Nagesh and his ministry have failed to implement it on all five days of the week, citing pressures of "casteist, religious groups". They said the unprofessional, unscientific and casteist textbook revision process violates Section 29 of the Right to Education Act. The removal of works of Dalit authors P Lankesh and Sara Aboobacker and distortion of historical facts related to Dr Ambedkar and Basavanna violate the National Curriculum Framework, they said.

Siddu blocked my political growth, says Motamma in autobiography

B THIPPERUDRAPPA @Chikkamagaluru

IT was not so easy for a dalit woman, who worked as a sub-registrar, to jump into the political arena and make it to the top echelons of the Congress party, become a CWC member and have clout with none other than the then Prime Minister late Indira Gandhi.

Motamma from Mudigere proved that a dalit woman politician could also rule the roost. She served as minister, opposition leader in the Council and MADB chairperson and was instrumental in forming women groups under the women's empowerment scheme.

After her successive defeats, she stepped away from the limelight and ventured into writing her autobiography titled 'Bidiru, Neenyarigalladavalu', literally translated as 'Oh Bamboo, who discards you?

Former CM SM Krishna released the book recently in Bengaluru. It is interesting to note that in the book, she has expressed displeasure about Congress leaders who she claims were responsible for "silencing" her voice and making her almost a political non-entity .

Motamma, in the book, expressed her dissatisfaction towards leaders, including former CM Siddaramaiah, for depriving her the opportunity of becoming a minister and a speaker in the Assembly. "None of the leaders in the party has any far-sighted thinking on strengthening the party. All behave cordially on the stage but off the stage they pay more attention to their own personal gains. Siddaramaiah blocked all opportunities for me to grow in politics permanently," she has written.

CM bursts into tears after watching '777 Charlie'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

IT was unusual for the chief minister. An emotional Basavaraj Bommai, who watched Rakshit Shetty-starrer 777 Charlie – a Kannada movie that depicts the bond between a man and his dog, broke down coming out of the theatre on Monday night. An avid dog lover, the CM lost family pet Sunny just last year. A couple of weeks before taking oath as chief minister in July 2021, Sunny died and Bommai had tweeted about it, saying they have lost a family member.

On Monday night, Bommai with ministers R Ashoka and BC Nagesh, MLA Raghupathi Bhat and others watched the movie at the multiples in Orion Mall along with the film crew, including Rakshit Shetty. The movie affected him so deeply that coming out of the theatre, tears rolled down his eyes while talking about the flick. Praising the movie, he said the bond between man and dog is the best example of pure and unconditional love.

"The movie has portrayed the sensitive and emotional relationship between the two. It has captured the dog's emotions well." Saying that, his voice choked and he broke down.

Expressing a concern for stray dogs, Bommai said he would discuss with experts to come out with a comprehensive plan to take care of strays. "We have a proposal to launch a special programme to encourage dog trainers," he said, adding that adoption of strays, including dogs, should be encouraged.

He said, "We are proud that the Kannada film industry is achieving international fame with movies like 777 Charlie and KGF - Chapter 2. The proposed Film City plan in Mysuru has already been finalised. It will be on a par with the most modern studios and will be built as a joint venture."

The official Twitter handle of 777 Charlie tweeted, "We run out of words to express our gratitude. We are beyond grateful to see Shri. @BSBommai, honorable Chief Minister of Karnataka accept our film with so much love."

Rakshit Shetty said, "Having seen his reaction to the loss of his pet dog, our team was sure that he would like this movie."

Chorus for single leadership grows in AIADMK

'Unitary leadership will do good for party'

T MURUGANANDHAM @ Chennai

NEARLY five years after accepting dual leadership to keep VK Sasikala and her clan out, Tamil Nadu's principal opposition party, the AIADMK, plunged into a crisis on Tuesday with a majority of senior office-bearers, who are supporters of joint-coordinator Edappadi K Palaniswami, proposing a single leadership for the party.

Political analysts are of the view that the party may face yet another split as coordinator O Panneerselvam will not agree to part with the leadership. Senior functionaries, however, stoutly denied that possibility saying the party would remain united. Though the demand for single leadership has been raised many times over the past few years, it was resolved through talks and both the leaders had said the dual leadership arrangement would stay. While the senior party brass that voiced support for single leadership included several former ministers, district secretaries, and headquarters office-bearers, two MLAs, including Manoj Pandian, and steering committee member JCD Prabhakar objected to it and said the present setup should continue and issues can be resolved through talks.

Sources said though most of those who batted for single leadership did not name their choice for the leadership, a few seniors openly voiced their support for Palaniswami and listed out reasons like his efficient handling of government for a full term for their decision.

Speaking to reporters after the meeting, AIADMK spokesperson D Jayakumar admitted that a majority of the top brass spoke in support of a single leadership. The party, in due course, will choose who could be that single leader, but that was not discussed during the meeting, he added. Jayakumar said, "Situations keep changing and most of the office-bearers think unitary leadership will do good for the party."

Speaking on the occasion, Kovind said ISKCON Bengaluru has made a positive difference to the lives of lakhs of people for the last 25 years. ISKCON's Akshaya Patra initiative feeds fresh, nutritious mid-day meals to over 18 lakh children in government schools across the country each day.

"During the pandemic, Akshaya Patra and its supporting organisations also provided over 25 crore meals to the distressed people. Such humanitarian interventions have benefitted all sections of society," the president said.

Madhu Pandit Dasa, president, ISKCON Bengaluru, said the temple has been inspired by Srila Prabhupada's desire to build a grand temple like the one in Tirumala.

Chanchalapathi Dasa, senior vice-president, ISKCON Bengaluru, said that the temple will be open to the public from August 1 and a large queuing hall, where about 5,000 devotees can wait comfortably for darshana will be available. "A large nitya annadana hall will benefit all the pilgrims through free meals. The campus will also provide spiritual and cultural education for children, youth and families," he said. THE 40-day-old baby girl, who went missing on Monday afternoon from the Karnataka Institute of Medical Sciences (KIMS) Hospital, was found behind the paediatric section of the hospital premises on Tuesday morning.

Around 6.30 am, one of the patient's attendants noticed a baby crying behind the paediatric section and informed KIMS staff. Later, the staff rescued the baby and shifted her to the hospital. The mother of the abducted baby, Umme Zainab Hussainsab Sheikh confirmed that the baby belongs to her.

Arunkumar C, medical superintendent of KIMS Hospital, said the baby is well and fine now. It is being treated in ICU as the baby had symptoms of hypothermia and there are rashes on the baby's body. "As the baby was exposed to cold when it was found, the body temperature of the baby was down, therefore it's shifted to ICU," he said.

The 'abductors' left the baby where there is no CCTV camera behind the paediatric section. The police are searching other CCTV footage on the KIMS hospital premises to find the abductor.

Police Commissioner Labhu Ram said the three teams headed by police inspectors will continue the investigation and find out the abductors and the persons behind the crime. He refused to comment further as the case is still in the investigation stage.

Def veterans give mixed reactions to Agnipath

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE Central government's Tour of Duty (ToD) -- Agnipath scheme, a process of recruitment of about 46,000 youth — boys and girls aged between 17.5 years and 21 years — for the armed forces for a four-year tenure, has received mixed reactions from Defence veterans. Some of them have criticised the scheme, while others have welcomed it.

Lt Gen Abhay Krishna (Retd) called the Agnipath scheme, a "well-thought out and farsighted initiative". He added that "this would help protect our increasing assets across the world, where optics of having Indian Army as boots on ground may not be taken well".

The Army veteran added that this Agnipath, in times ahead, "will result in a well-trained and disciplined manpower to meet India's security needs and its rising aspirations. The Ukraine conflict has shown how a similar model has worked in the country. Since 2014, on the basis of rotation, Ukraine had employed over six lakh personnel for short duration to fight in the restive Donbas region. This helped to create a huge combat experienced reserve which came in handy when Russia invaded," he said.

Krishna said that "Agnipath may help in raising private military companies in the same way as the US had deployed Blackwater in Iraq or the Russians had used the Wagner group in Syria or how the Chinese are using Academia in Xinjiang," said Lt Gen Krishna.

Lt General Rakesh Sharma (Retd) said Agnipath will prove "transformational" for the Defence services. "The scheme will bring about a national balance in Army recruitment. It has many positives (for Agniveers) such as financial package, concern for battle casualties and disabilities. There is also a decent severance package. Agnipath should be dynamic. As the process moves ahead, it should be tweaked where necessary," said Sharma.

Air Marshal Philip Rajkumar (Retd) also welcomed the move and said the government is trying to do something new. "Let us wait for four years and see how it comes out. A lot of lessons are to be learnt. It is not going to be a one-size-fits-all solution. Other countries also have a similar scheme. Israel, like India, which is surrounded by hostile neighbours, has had mandatory conscription in the Army since its independence in 1948," said the IAF veteran.

Lt General Vinod Bhatia (Retd), former director general, military operations (DGMO), Director, Centre for Joint Warfare Studies, tweeted, calling the ToD "a death knell for armed forces".

MINOR RAPES MINOR, BOY FLEES TO CAMEROON

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Shivamogga

THE father of a minor boy, who is accused of raping a minor girl, allegedly issued death threats to the rape victim and her family at a village in Channagiri taluk of Davanagere disrtrict recently. The boy, meanwhile, has managed to fly to Cameroon in Central Africa, where his father is working. The victim's family has filed a police complaint against the accused.

Police sources said the complaint by the girl's grandmother is being registered and both the accused and victim are 17-year-olds. In the complaint, the grandmother stated that the girl was staying with her from classes 1 to 8 at her village. Later, she was admitted to Class 9 in Shivamogga. But during the lockdown last year, the girl had gone back to stay with her grandmother. The girl was allegedly raped repeatedly by the minor boy, who is her relative, in February.

The grandmother stated that the complaint was filed on April 25 as the boy's father is an influential person in the village. The complaint stated the boy's father also sent three people along with some rowdy elements to kill the girl when the grandmother had gone to attend a village fair. However, the grandmother locked the girl inside her house to protect her.

HC issues norms to take care of jumbos adopted by trust

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday issued guidelines for care and custody of elephants adopted by the Radha Krishna Temple Elephant Welfare Trust at Jamnagar in Gujarat, which has the custody of 153 elephants.

Disposing of a PIL by advocate MS Muruly questioning handing over four elephants to the trust by the Mysuru royal family on the ground that the state or the Union government is abdicating its responsibility by allowing organisations like the trust to give refuge to elephants, a division bench of Chief Justice Ritu Raj Awasthi and Justice Ashok S Kinagi issued the guidelines.

The four elephants were rescued from a circus a couple of decades ago and the Mysuru royal family volunteered to take care of them after a court order. In 2017, the royal family wrote to the forest department that the handlers were not taking proper care of the animals and handed them over to the Trust after permission from the forest department to translocate them.

The court said that the elephants should, till the end of their respective lives, be continued to be given the same care and facilities by the trust as specified before the court.

HANUMAN'S BIRTHPLACE

Nod likely for development of Anjanadri Hills

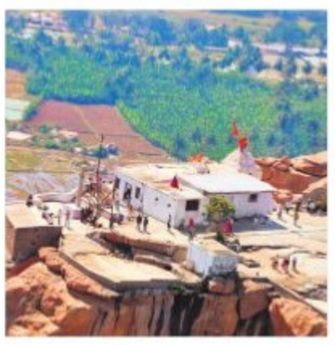
EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Koppal

EVEN as neighbouring Andhra Pradesh and Maharashtra claim spots near Tirumala and Nashik, respectively, as birth place of Lord Hanuman,

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai is scheduled to hold a high-level meeting with officials and elected representatives in Bengaluru on June 15 to give nod for development of Anjanadri Hills in Gangavati taluk of Karnataka's Koppal district.

In fact, Lord Hanuman temple atop Anjanadri Hills is considered as the birth place of Lord Hanuman. Though the Koppal district administration prepared a blueprint for comprehensive development of the spot, the facelift of the hills has been delayed. The State Government announced Rs 120 crore in the 2022-23 budget for the development of Anjanadri Hills. The place assumes significance as Anegundi village in Gangavati taluk where the Anjanadri Hills is located, is also considered as the origin of the Vijayanagara Kingdom. The Union Government plans to connect this place with Ayodhya under the Ramayana train service circuit.

The district administration's blueprint incorporates road widening, parking lot, interpretation centre, 'Yari Nivas', public toilets, market centre and even a ropeway at the site. Devotees and visitors have to climb more than 500 steps to reach the Lord Hanuman temple atop the hills.



Anjanadri Hills in Koppal dist

Tourism and Koppal district minister Anand Singh on Monday visited the hills as a prelude to the high-level meeting by Bommai on June 15.

He said that farmers will be persuaded for initial acquisition of 60 acres around the hills to ensure basic infrastructure. As Anegundi and surrounding villages are irrigated by the Tungabhadra river flowing through Gangavati taluk, the area has fertile land but farmers will be given more than the market price, he said.

The minister also pointed out that the State Government will pursue with the Union Government for the declaration of Anjanadri Hills as the original birth place of Lord Hanuman.

"Are terrorists going to be scared if we react violently? No. They love it. They dote on violence. They dote on having more reasons to commit more terrorism

Howard Zinn

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.

— Ramnath Goenka

WELCOME JOB PUSH AS WORLD ECONOMY HEADS FOR RECESSION

It is commendable Prime Minister Narendra Modi has personally taken a lead in fighting unemployment. In a review of the status of human resources of government departments and ministries, the Prime Minister has directed them to begin recruiting in a 'mission mode' aiming to get 10 lakh fresh hands on board within 18 months. The government has been facing criticism that despite the high employment, a large number of vacancies in different government sectors is not filled up. Simultaneously, Union defence minister Rajnath Singh announced that the three armed forces will together recruit 45,000 personnel this year on short commission with a four-year tenure. The best 25% of the 'Agniveers', as they have been dubbed, will be absorbed in the regular forces; the others will be discharged with handsome severance payouts.

This initiative comes at a time when spiralling inflation and a tight monetary policy in the US and elsewhere is threatening to derail growth and is spinning the world towards recession. The US' consumer price index figures released last Friday showed inflation hitting a record high of 8.6% for May. The template in India is a little tempered by the recent cut in fuel prices, but nevertheless continued to hover in May around 7.04%—much above the ceiling of 6% allowed by the Reserve Bank of India. After the recent hike in bank lending (repo) rates by 50 basis points, all the indications are there for a further hardening of interest rates.

As the US Fed lurches towards a possible 2.5% increase in borrowing rates by September, this year, the global growth story is bound to bite the dust before things get better. The prolonged war in Ukraine has exacerbated the shortage of food and fuel and made them more expensive. The slowdown is evident in India, and it is at the cost of jobs. In this situation, it is government spending, and more particularly government job recruitment that can offer some panacea in the coming crisis. State governments should take a leaf from the Centre. The only caveat is these helpful schemes being announced by the PM should be for real and not remain on paper.

INDIA's OLYMPIC SPORTS MIRED IN SCANDALS

The worst' will not be an exaggeration while describing the phase Indian sports (Olympic sports, of course) is going through at the moment. It has plunged into one of those abysses where clawing back will take a humongous effort. It is mired in scandals, court cases, suspensions, harassment charges and allegations of bias in team selections.

The past week or so had been tumultuous, to say the least. The cycling team that was training in Slovenia was called back after a female cyclist levelled charges of sexual harassment against its chief national coach. One of the members of the women's sailing team training in Germany had said her coach was making her "uncomfortable". The Yachting Association of India conducted an enquiry and submitted the report to Sports Authority of India (SAI) to whom the sailor had addressed her grievances. The cycling national coach was dismissed after SAI found him guilty.

Just a couple of days before these two unsavoury allegations, the Delhi HC had asked the sports ministry to suspend and stop funding those National Sports Federations for non-compliance of the sports code. According to petitioner and senior advocate, Rahul Mehra, all except one or two NSFs don't comply with sports code. On June 10, the Delhi HC heard a case involving table tennis players who alleged discrepancies in the selection process of the 2022 Commonwealth Games team. One of the players, Diya Chitale, was included after the Table Tennis Federation of India, run by a court-appointed Committee of Administrators, made a U-turn. The CoA itself was under intense scrutiny.

With around six weeks left for the Commonwealth Games in Birmingham, there is no clue who would be chalking out the final list of athletes and officials for the Games. With NSFs suspended (by ministry and not international federations), there is a lack of clarity as to how the government would clear the officials accompanying the teams. Players should not be affected but there is a lack of clarity. The last date of submission of athletes' names is in a few days. The clock is ticking but one wonders if anybody is even listening to it right now.

Security forces need to re-calibrate their strategy by adopting a hybrid approach of strong measures along with engagement and sensitisation

SECURING KASHMIR AGAINST EMERGING TERROR THREATS

LT GEN SYED ATA HASNAIN (RETD)

Former Commander, Srinagar-based 15 Corps. Now Chancellor, Central University of Kashmir

SOUMYADIP SINHA

With the targeted killings in Kashmir there have been many opinion pieces in the media, mostly diverse from each other in perception, ideas and thoughts on counteraction. There is nothing wrong with that as ideas generate better solutions. However, there is a thought process involving the comparison of the J&K situation with that of Punjab in the 1980s and early 1990s.

It gives an awkward surmise that Punjab was won through the barrel of the gun by the adoption of only hard-nosed methods by the State. Believers of this theory recommend a similar approach in J&K to put an end to the spiralling violence, which has a habit of returning in different avatars. These are generally the beliefs of those who have not served in J&K and wish to juxtapose ideas without full comprehension of a very complex proxy war which commenced in 1989 in J&K and continues till today. I have the advantage of having served extensively in both the above environments.

Very importantly, the situation in both Punjab and J&K was brought on by internal mistakes and exploited by Pakistan to fight India by proxy. In J&K's case, Pakistan succeeded in cultivating the idea of the inevitability of secession, making it easier to pursue a proxy war through people's domain, too. It was made even easier by infusing violent extremist ideology in the state to create greater alienation against India. However, Punjab was different; the majority of the people never supported any ideas of separatism or radicalism.

The Punjab insurgency (or terror) lasted more than 10 years but there was never a change in the nature of violence except for a brief period in 1984. No one came out on the streets and the administration was never paralysed. This is so unlike J&K, which has witnessed all elements of the spectrum of violence, including street turbulence and targeted killings of minorities and others. The moment externally sponsored violence commenced and reached worrisome levels in J&K in 1990, Pakistan pulled out all sponsorship from the campaign in Punjab; it rightly perceived the impossibility of attempting to pursue violent campaigns of separatism in two states. I do not ascribe responsibility to any single agency for ending militancy in Punjab; it was a combined Indian effort but most of all, it was the brave people of Punjab who ended the unfortunate phase.

Thirty years later, every effort is being made to re-energise militancy in Punjab, this time in conjunction with the calibrated effort going on in J&K. Pakistan has employed different strategies in J&K at various junctures, with many experiments too. As a 'long war', there is now an experiment of establishing simultaneity of effort. Pakistan is apparently confident this time of executing a low-intensity campaign in both states; something which will not go over the top and yet help create more alienation especially among the people of J&K. The networks established in Punjab would be helpful in supporting the terrorist grid in J&K. These networks have all the ingredients which go into making situations that aid terror; networks involving finance, narcotics, ideology, gun running and explosives, and extending into even media and social media. The run of targeted killings in J&K no doubt needs a heavy clamp-down with more intensive policing, patrolling and intelligence activity. However, with the terror acts being executed differently, with 'one off' terrorists armed only with pistols and no record, and perhaps without knowledge of families, friends and community, demands a slightly different approach too.

It's the people who have to take ownership of the security of their society; the police and the army can play a greater role in sensitisation of the dangers of allowing this to proliferate leading to the crackdowns of the past, much to public discomfort. My recommendation is a hybrid approach of strong security measures but with another arm of the forces ensuring engagement and sensitisation as well. I do recommend relocation of people under potential threat to safer places within the Valley but can also foresee the sponsored initiation of more targeted killings against soldiers, policemen and even civilian government workers to prevent achievement of any cogency in the government's countermeasures. The mother of all opportunities for sponsored terror groups and even 'one off' terrorists is approaching. The iconic Sri Amarnath Yatra, which occupies a very significant position in India's collective emotional psyche, is also one of the most vulnerable annual events. A terror act against pilgrims, when seen in conjunction with the ongoing terrorist efforts to remain relevant, obviously creates a low for India, its leadership and security forces.

> Thirty years later, every effort is being made to re-energise militancy in Punjab, this time in conjunction with the calibrated effort going on in J&K. Pakistan has employed different strategies at various junctures, with many experiments

In 1999, at the height of the Kargil war, Pakistan used every element of information warfare in its quiver to project intense threats against the Yatra. I was responsible for coordinating the huge security grid set up to prevent any Pakistani success at a time when India was already under intense pressure. We warded the threats successfully that year. A year later, LeT terrorists infiltrated the grid and killed 32 people and injured around 60 at Pahalgam, the base camp for the Yatra. Among the victims were 22 Hindu pilgrims, seven Muslim shopkeepers and porters and three security officials; there were no qualms about the faith of the victims. Next year, on July 20, 2001, 13 people were killed and 15 others injured in two explosions and firing by militants on a pilgrim rest camp at Sheshnag Lake. The casualties included eight Hindu pilgrims, three Muslim civilians and two security personnel.

There have been similar incidents in 2002, 2006 and 2017 too. The two mountainous trek routes to the shrine are not the only vulnerable ones, as may seem evident. With the frequent discovery of sticky bombs in various caches, including ones dropped by drones, and the recent bomb attack on a Katra-bound pilgrim bus, the vulnerability of the route from Jammu to Pahalgam (Chandanwari) and Baltal has enhanced. A major targeting of the Yatra can be akin to and as dangerous as the Pulwama incident of February 14, 2019.

We cannot draw solace from the fact that Pakistan itself is in a situation where it lacks leadership and faces political and economic challenges, and, therefore, may not wish to cross the red lines. Terror-based situations are irrational and terrorists thrive in such an environment. In the three weeks time we have before the Yatra commences, we must redouble our security efforts. Most importantly, give greater relevance to partnerships with the local people who contribute so much to make the Yatras successful.

HOW TO ELIMINATE THE EVIL OF ELDER ABUSE

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE

Consultant geriatric psychiatrist, Apollo Multispecialty Hospitals, Kolkata

The helpline rang. I could never hear the other side! It was only days or months later that we realiSed that the older persons on the 'other side' of the calls were either beaten, neglected, abandoned, or denied freedom. Strangely, very few of them sought help. While some were afraid of legal hassles, others had poor digital literacy and limited access to resources. They were continuously abused in different types of ways—it was undetected and led to serious physical and psychological consequences.

The World Health Organization (WHO) defines elder abuse as "a single or repeated act, or lack of appropriate action, occurring within any relationship where there is an expectation of trust, which causes harm or distress to an older person". Elder abuse is a common yet neglected social evil. The WHO states that one in six seniors face abuse globally. However, the truth is largely under-reported.

Elder abuse can be emotional, psychological, physical, sexual and financial. Besides physical abuse which is obvious, emotional abuse includes blaming, scapegoating, threatening, scolding, insulting, intimidating, denigrating, humiliating, etc. Theft of the older person's assets, misuse of an ATM card, chequebook fraud, credit card fraud, power of attorney transfer, etc., come under the ambit of financial abuse.

Another important form of abuse is neglect which also can be physical or emotional. In physical neglect, the older person's essential physical needs are deliberately not catered to by the formal or informal caregiver or other trusted persons. An example may be a wilful failure to turn a bedridden older person (which will precipitate bedsores). Psychological neglect can be explained as turning a 'deaf ear' to the person's emotions. The perpetrators (those who commit abuse or neglect) may employ force, threat, deception or any kind of manipulation. When it is overt, it is often easier to observe. This holds true for overt physical, sexual or even financial abuse.

Unfortunately, most cases go unreported. The older adults are often seen to have doubts, reluctance, fear of further adversity from the perpetrator, lack of privacy, inability to access a reliable authority and a lack of awareness of their own rights and legal provisions. This makes it all the more important for both the well-wishers (neighbours, family or others without a vested interest) and professionals (medical, police, administrative) to observe keenly for any sign of abuse.

Elder abuse needs prompt detection. Here are a few warning signs: unexplained signs of injury (scars, bruises, broken bones, etc.), damaged daily aids (like spectacles, walking sticks, etc.), malnutrition, unkempt appearance, tattered clothing, poor living conditions, sudden worsening of memory, prolonged sadness, and lack of privacy during doctor-visits. We need to be aware to detect. Older people have a tendency to conceal abuse for various reasons. "You do not ask, and they do not tell." The abuse of elders by caregivers is a worldwide issue. In 2002, WHO brought global attention to the issue of elder abuse. Over the years, government agencies and community professional groups all over the world have specified elder abuse as a social problem. The ongoing Covid-19 pandemic has further widened these inequalities among older people. The HelpAge India Report published in 2020 highlights a significant rise in elder abuse and unmet needs of the older persons during the pandemic.

> We need to be aware to detect. Older people have a tendency to conceal abuse for various reasons. "You do not ask, and they do not tell." ... Sadly, in most cases, the perpetrator is a family member of the older person

In 2006, the International Network for Prevention of Elder Abuse (INPEA) designated June 15 as World Elder Abuse Awareness Day. An increasing number of events are held across the globe on this day to raise awareness about elder abuse and highlight ways to tackle such abuse. Characteristics which increase the risk of becoming a victim of abuse include functional dependence/disability, poor physical health, memory problems, poor mental health and low income. Risks of becoming a perpetrator of abuse include mental illness, substance abuse and being financially dependent on the elderly victim. Sadly, in most instances, the perpetrator is a family member of the older person.

Normalisation of violence and ageism are social factors which form the root of elder abuse. Equating agEing with negative stereotypes and labelling older persons as "weak and frail" often lead to neglect and abandonment. Decay in intergenerational bonds within families also contribute to abuse of senior citizens. Awareness campaigns, screening of potential victims and abusers, sensitisation of school and college-goers about the issue, caregiver training for dementia, strict regulatory policies to control abuse, mandatory and accessible reporting system for abuse and improving standards of care in the residential care homes—all are effective strategies for preventing abuse. They need to be aware of their rights and uphold legislations available (say, the Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007). Other pertinent laws are to be modified in an age-sensitive manner to cater to the needs of those with impaired capacity to make their own decisions. Timely media campaigns should be conducted to make the stakeholders aware. Inputs must be taken from older people and caregivers to make the laws more sensitive to them. Support groups will help caregivers open up about their difficulties, thereby reducing the abuse.

Human rights and dignity are universal. Elder abuse threatens these rights and the quality of life. Ageing is an inevitable truth and it needs to be dealt with by using the principles of equality, respect, autonomy and care. The UN Decade of Healthy Ageing from 2021–2030 aims to combat ageism, create an age-friendly environment, and promote integrated care for them. It is a collective responsibility and we need to act now. Let us eliminate the evil of elder abuse by creating and nurturing a world for our senior citizens—a world that we would love to live in when we age!

Rahul and his rallies

This is with reference to the news Congress accuses Delhi cops of brutality against leaders (June 14). Subramanian Swamy filed The National Herald case in 2012, so Rahul Gandhi knew quite well that the ED investigation could take place. Maybe he should not have given a nod to the whole Satyagraha issue where his party members went and protested in front of the ED headquarters. They organised such a huge rally for this and unleashed an array of allegations against BJP, but where were their big rallies when it came to pressing issues?

K Jayanthi, Chennai

Political vendetta

Rahul Gandhi was quizzed by the ED on Monday over the misappropriation of funds in the National Herald case. Why is he being questioned now, for a case that dates back to 2012 when the then BJP MP Subramanian Swamy had approached a trial court alleging that the Gandhis had fraudulently acquired the National Herald newspaper? The whole drama reeks of political vendetta.

In a tough spot

This is with reference to the article Protests continue, Kerala CM remains unruffled (June 13). Kerala CM Pinarayi Vijayan is probably afraid to look at his own shadow after seeing black flags being waved in protest against him. LDF is in a tight corner, but they are putting up a brave face. However, Vijayan cannot ignore people's growing sentiments against him and his party.

Turning a Nelson's eye

This is with reference to the news China wades into Prophet remarks controversy (June 14). China has no locus standi to meddle with India's internal affairs. What about the thousands of Uyghur Muslims languishing in jails? None of the Muslim countries have stepped in and objected to how China has been suppressing this community. So, what appals me is that everyone is turning a blind eye to the injustices meted out by China.

Qatar, don't meddle

This is with reference to the column Qatar must make amends and work towards harmony (June 14). The writer has brought his point out in such a succinct manner. Qatar does not have the moral authority to question India's secularity since they are a self-proclaimed Islamic country.

Agniveers will be recruited on a contractual basis for four-year term; move aimed at freeing defence funds for procurements, giving the forces younger profile

Govt goes Agnipath way to recruit soldiers

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

AIMED at cutting down salary and pension bills and freeing up funds for urgent procurement of weapons, the Cabinet Committee on Security on Tuesday approved a new recruitment scheme for the three wings of the armed forces. Christened 'Agnipath,' the major defence policy reform paves the way for recruiting 46,000 'Agniveers,' including women, this year.

Defence Minister Rajnath Singh termed it a "historic" decision in the presence of the chiefs of all the three services — Army, Navy and Air Force.

Under the scheme, about 45,000 people between the age of 17.5 years and 21 years will be inducted into the services for a four-year tenure. The recruitments will begin within the next 90 days and the first batch will be ready by July 2023. "The scheme is called Agnipath and the youth selected under this scheme will be known as Agniveers," the Ministry of Defence said in a statement.

The Agnipath is designed to enable a youthful profile of the armed forces. "It will provide an opportunity to the youth who may be keen to don the uniform. They can plough back their skills, discipline and motivation into society," said the ministry.

The enrolment will be through an online-centralized system for all three services with specialized rallies and campus interviews from recognized technical institutes such as Industrial Training Institutes and National Skills Qualifications Framework, among others. Enrolment will be based on 'All India All Class' basis and the eligible age will be in the range from 17.5 to 21 years. The scheme, if successful, will drastically cut the revenue and pension bill which accounts for half of the annual defence budget of ₹5.2 lakh crore.

However, critics have argued that it will affect the fighting spirit and professionalism of forces. They have raised concerns that the four-year tenure may make soldiers risk-averse.

Enumerating the benefits, the MoD said, "Agniveers will be given an attractive customized monthly package along with risk and hardship allowances as applicable in the three services. "On completion of the engagement period of four years, Agniveers will be paid one time 'SevaNidhi' package of ₹11.71 lakh. This amount will be exempt from Income Tax. However, there will be no entitlement to gratuity and pensionary benefits.

Agniveers will be provided non-contributory life insurance cover of ₹48 lakh for the duration of their engagement period. During this period of service to the nation, the Agniveers will be imparted with various military skills and experience, discipline, physical fitness, leadership qualities, courage and patriotism.

Post four-year stint, the Agniveers will be infused into the civil society where they can contribute towards nation building. The skills gained by each Agniveer will be recognised in a certificate to form part of his unique resume.

> It is envisaged that the average age profile of Indian Armed forces would come down by about 4-5 years by implementation of this scheme —Ministry of Defence

WHAT THE SCHEME IS ALL ABOUT

- Agnipath scheme seeks to recruit soldiers (personnel below officer ranks) in the Army, Navy and Air Force largely on a four-year short-term contractual basis
- The new recruits will be known as 'Agniveers'
- 'Agniveers' would form a distinct rank in the armed forces, different from any other existing ranks.
- It'll be an overhaul of the decades-old selection process to bring in fitter and younger troops.
- Around 46,000 soldiers will be recruited this year between the ages of 17 and a half years and 21 years into the three services.
- The recruitment will be based on an "all India, all-class" basis ostensibly to change the composition in regiments that recruit caste and region specific soldiers as Rajputs, Jats and Sikhs.

Experts sceptical of benefit, say pilot project should have come first

MAYANK SINGH @New Delhi

MILITARY experts said the Agnipath scheme should have not been implemented in the first place and even if it's being done, it should have followed a proper study and a pilot project. Lt-Gen (retd) Vinod Bhatia, former DG (Military Operations) of the Army called it a "death knell" for the armed forces. "There has been no pilot project, on-ground implementation and analysis of such a serious and significant change," he said.

Maj Gen (retd) Ajay Seth was also critical of the move. Why fix something that is not broken, he asked.

"Let's not create an irreversible and avoidable turmoil and turbulence, with two adversaries conjoined to trouble us," he said. It should have been implemented at the smaller scale and when found suitable, only then should have been implemented, Seth added.

Some experts feel it will gradually lead to militarisation of society. "Nearly 40,000 (75%) youth year-on-year will move out of the Agnipath and semi-trained former Agniveers will be going into society dejected. Not a good idea. No one gains," cautioned Lt-Gen Bhatia.

However, Major General Ashok Kumar was of the view that every change raises apprehensions in the beginning. "This scheme is transformational and will benefit both the armed forces and the country in an asymmetrical manner. It will bring down the current age profile of the frontline units from 32 years at present to 26 years in four-six years' time. Since the retention will be only 25 per cent of the intake there will be a qualitative upgrade of the units profile," he said.

There are certain worries about those who won't get jobs. "It may be of some concern, but as we go ahead I am sure the government and other stakeholders will create conditions to get more people absorbed."

Didi in Delhi for the big meeting as Oppn scurries to find Prez candidate

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @New Delhi

IF all goes well, the opposition will try to build a consensus on Wednesday after Mamata Banerjee-called meeting for putting up the opposition candidate against the ruling BJP-led NDA candidate in the upcoming presidential election. The presidential election is scheduled on July 18 for picking up the successor of Ram Nath Kovind, whose term will end on July 24.

West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee arrived in New Delhi on Tuesday to host the meeting she had called to unite 22 opposition parties.

Banerjee, the Trinamool Congress supremo, met NCP chief Sharad Pawar at his residence to convince him to be the common opposition candidate. The Maratha strongman, who has friends across the deeply divided political spectrum, however, turned down the proposal, sources in the opposition camp said.

TMC sources said she discussed the strategy for fielding of a consensus candidate with Pawar.

Mamata's meeting is likely to be attended by the Congress and Left leaders. Sources in the Congress hinted that Jairam Ramesh, Malliakarjun Kharge or Randeep Singh Surjewala will represent the party at the meeting.

CPM general secretary Sitaram Yechury and CPI general secretary D Raja said the top leadership will not attend the meeting. The CPI(M) will be represented in the meeting by the leader of the party in Rajya Sabha, E Kareem.

Before assigning his party MP for meeting, Yechury wrote a letter to Banerjee calling her decision to host the meeting "unilateral communication".

Apart from leaders from Congress and Left, DMK's TR Baalu, Shiv Sena's Subhash Desai, RLD's Jayant Chaudhary, and Mehbooba Mufti have confirmed participation for the meeting. Samajwadi Party chief Akhilesh Yadav will also attend, as will Jharkhand Mukti Morcha chief and Jharkhand CM Hemant Soren.

Rahul summoned by ED again today

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Enforcement Directorate (ED) grilled Congress leader Rahul Gandhi for the second consecutive day on Tuesday for about 10 hours in the National Herald case, and has summoned him again on Wednesday, even as Congress leaders and workers continued their protest.

Rahul, accompanied by sister Priyanka Gandhi Vadra, reached the probe agency's office at APJ Abdul Kalam Road amid heavy police deployment around 11 am.

After four hours of questioning, he took a break around 3:30 pm and went home. He returned to the ED office after about an hour and at 9 pm. Earlier in the day, he had joined senior party leaders at a 'dharna' at the Congress headquarters.

On Day Two also, party leaders and workers hit the streets in a 'show of solidarity' with their MP. Several senior leaders staged a protest at the party headquarters. They were detained and taken to different police stations. Prohibitory orders were in force and heavy barricading was in place to stop Congress leaders from marching along with Rahul.

Top Congress leaders, including KC Venugopal, Jairam Ramesh, Deepender Singh Hooda, Adhir Ranjan Chowdhury, Randeep Singh Surjewala, Ranjeet Ranjan, Gaurav Gogoi, Imran Pratapgarhi and B V Srinivas were taken into preventive custody. Priyanka and the chief ministers of Rajasthan and Chhattisgarh, Ashok Gehlot and Bhupesh Baghel, were also present at the dharna at the Congress headquarters along with party MPs and workers.

Lok Sabha MP Manickam Tagore claimed he and some other leaders, including P L Punia, were not allowed to enter the party office Akbar Road and were detained at the Mandir Marg police station.

Hitting out at the government over the ED summons to Rahul and Congress chief Sonia Gandhi, Gehlot said Prime Minister Narendra Modi should focus on governance rather than targeting opposition leaders.

The BJP alleged the Congress was blocking roads to show its "leaders are above the law". Taking a swipe at Rahul after he criticised the PM's announcement on providing 10 lakh jobs, Anuraag Thakur said, "I would only say to Rahul ji, you should first provide the right answers to the ED on the serious charges of corruption made against you."

Edu ministry to fill up all vacancies in central univs, KVs, Navodaya schools

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE education ministry plans to recruit and fill up all vacant teaching and non-teaching posts in higher education institutions, Kendriya Vidyalayas, Jawahar Navodaya Vidyalayas and other departments at the earliest.

In a tweet, Union Education Minister Dharmendra Pradhan said the ministry is "committed to filling up vacancies in their respective departments in the next 1.5 years". His announcement came soon after Prime Minister Narendra Modi directive to Central government ministries and departments do recruitments in the next 18 months in a "mission mode".

Pradhan, also the Skill Development Minister, said the two ministries are committed to filling all vacancies in the next 1.5 years, adding that "accountability, people-centric governance and meeting targets before the deadline is a hallmark" of the Modi government.

Earlier this year, Pradhan had said in a written reply in the Rajya Sabha that 6,558 teaching and 15,227 non-teaching posts are lying vacant in all Central universities.

The vacancies were created because of retirements, resignations and additional requirements on account of enhanced students' strength.

The minister had also said that the institutions are adopting various measures to address faculty shortages to ensure that studies of students are not affected.

A-I fined for denying boarding to flyers

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA) has imposed a fine of ₹10 lakh on Air India (A-I) for denying boarding to passengers holding valid tickets.

"In addition, the airline has been advised to immediately put the systems in place to resolve the issue failing which further action shall be taken," the regulator said.

The action comes following numerous reports of flyers being denied boarding by a slew of airlines despite being in possession of valid tickets and showing up on time. Despite guidelines on the same being in place, certain airlines are not following them, the DGCA said after conducting a series of checks at Bengaluru, Hyderabad and Delhi.

In the case of Air India, a show cause notice was issued to the airline and also a personal hearing was afforded. "It appears that the airline does not have a policy in this regard and is not paying any compensation to hapless passengers, whose numbers can be anybody's guess," the DGCA said.

Laying down guidelines for denying boarding to a passenger despite a valid ticket, the DGCA said in case an airline is able to arrange an alternate flight within an hour, no compensation is to be paid.

EMPLOYABILITY

AICTE assessing learning levels of tech graduates

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @New Delhi

THE All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) is working on a survey to measure the learning levels of engineering and management students through an assessment project.

According to AICTE chairperson Prof Anil D. Sahasrabudhe, work is still ongoing. "It is a work in progress. I can't comment now. It will be premature to speak about the survey as it is an ongoing scheme," Sahasrabudhe said.

The assessment will be conducted for all branches of engineering and management students' across all AICTE-affiliated colleges in India. The first-of-its-kind survey aims to assess the learning level of engineering students, identify lacunae, and take corrective measures.

An earlier report, the India Skills Report, which is released annually in association with the AICTE, Confederation of Indian Industries and other private agencies, showed the employability of B.E/B. Tech graduates have gone down over the years.

China lifts Covid visa ban on Indians; tourists still not allowed

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

AFTER a two-year gap, China has lifted the Covid visa ban on certain categories of people. This includes foreign nationals and their accompanying family members going to China for resumption of work. A notification issued by the Chinese embassy said the family members include "spouse, parents, spouses, parents, grandparents and grandchildren." However, the visa applications continue to be suspended for tourism and other private purposes.

Visa applications will continue to be processed for foreign nationals and their accompanying family members who engage in diplomatic or official activities in China or humanitarian work, or those making a trip for attending a funeral or visiting family members who are in critical care. Though this notification doesn't include student visas, sources say that the Chinese visa desk is processing student visas, though details for the same are not yet available. Over 23,000 Indian students enrolled across various universities in China.

'Ukraine looks at India for post-war rebuilding'

> Post-war, we will bank on our friends like India to help us rebuild our nation and also become our guarantor... We are thankful to India for humanitarian support
>
> IGOR POLIKHA, Ukraine envoy

YESHI SELI @New Delhi

WHILE India has refrained from siding with the West in criticising Russia over its invasion of Ukraine, New Delhi has reached out to Ukraine with humanitarian aid. The country now wants India to help its reconstruction efforts after the war ends.

"We have been at the receiving end due to loss of life and property, but have given the Russians a tough fight dispelling their presumption that they would win in a matter of days. But, post-war, we will bank on our friends like India to come forward and help us rebuild our nation and also become our guarantor," Ukraine's Ambassador to India Igor Polikha told TNIE.

India has vast experience in creating infrastructure and Ukraine is hoping that it will partner with them in reconstruction once the war gets over. "We are thankful to India for extending humanitarian support to us. Around 240 tonnes of humanitarian support came from India, mainly medicines," Polikha added.

There are many Indian pharma companies in Europe and they collectively came out in support of the war-ravaged Ukraine. Around $8 million of additional support was collected and sent to Ukraine by them.

The envoy said his country understands India decision of not going all-out in criticising Russia. "India stopped short of naming those responsible for the massacre at Bucha and sought an independent probe. However, the Ukrainians are happy that former Supreme Court Justice Dalveer Bhandari (one of the 15 sitting judges of the UN Court) voted against Russia," Polikha added.

Ukraine is hopeful that countries like India will put pressure on Russia to end the ongoing conflict.

BAN ON PLASTIC

The West Bengal government has decided to ban the use of plastic bags below 75 microns of thickness in the state from July 1, Urban Development and Municipal Affairs Minister Firhad Hakim said on Tuesday.

Maharashtra has legacy of social reformers: PM

Months after the parties parted ways, Modi, Uddhav share stage

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi and Maharashtra Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray attended an event together in Mumbai on Tuesday, making political circles go abuzz about the thawing of relations between the two former allies. Modi was in Mumbai to inaugurate the Jal Bhushan Building and Gallery of Revolutionaries at Raj Bhawan in Mumbai.

Addressing the gathering, the Prime Minister said Maharashtra has inspired the country in many fields. "There is a rich legacy of social reformers from Jagatguru Shri Sant Tukaram Maharaj to Babasaheb Ambedkar," he said, adding that various seers and social reformers have infused energy into the country.

"If we talk of Swarajya, the lives of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj and Chhatrapati Sambhaji Maharaj strengthen the sense of patriotism in every Indian," said the PM.

Modi said knowingly or unknowingly, we limit the freedom struggle to a few incidents. However, India's Independence involved the 'tapasya' (sacrifices) of countless people, the PM said. The collective impact of many incidents at the local level was national. "The means were different but the resolution was the same."

The PM also noted the inclusion of ancient values and memories of freedom struggle in the architecture of Raj Bhavan — the Governor's residence — and praised the spirit of turning Raj Bhavan into Lok Bhavan.

Modi remarked that Mumbai is the city of dreams, but there are many such cities in Maharashtra, which are going to be dgrowth centres.

Governor Bhagat Singh Koshyari and CM Uddhav Thackeray were among those present on the occasion.

BUNKER TURNED INTO MUSEUM

'Jal Bhushan' has been the official residence of the Maharashtra Governor since 1885. In 2016, former Governor Vidyasagar Rao found a bunker in Raj Bhawan, which was used by the colonial British as a secret storage for ammunition. The bunker was renovated in 2019. A gallery has been developed in the bunker as a museum to commemorate the contributions of freedom fighters.

10 Cong MLAs eye BJP entry, may cross-vote in Prez polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

GOA is abuzz that ahead of the presidential polls, 10 Congress MLAs may move to the BJP.

In the 40-member Assembly, BJP has 20 MLAs, while there are 11 MLAs of the Congress, two each of AAP and MGP, and five independent MLAs.

According to sources, the disgruntled Congress MLAs are in touch with the BJP leadership. "They are ready to join. But the leadership has decided not to hurry but induct them as per the party's requirement," a BJP leader said. "The BJP's plan is to ask the Congress MLAs to cross-vote in the presidential poll and later take them into the party. Former chief minister and Congress leader Digambar Kamat has already spoken with the leadership." BJP Goa president Sadananda Tabawade said no final decision has been taken yet.

A Congress leader said the main reason is harassment by the BJP-led government. "Most MLAs own hotels. BJP has been issuing notices to them, asking them to pull down the structures. The other businesses are also targeted," he said.

According to Goa-based mediaperson Kishor Naik Gaonkar, chances are weak that 10 MLAs will make a move together. "A few of them may join now. By 2024, most Congress MLAs will be with BJP."

MP: BJP gets bigger, 3 MLAs switch sides

ANURAAG SINGH @Bhopal

IN a significant political development in Madhya Pradesh ahead of next month's presidential election, three legislators joined the ruling BJP in Bhopal on Tuesday.

Chief Minister Shivraj Singh Chouhan and state party chief VD Sharma were present at the event when Sanjiv Singh from Bhind seat, one of the two BSP MLAs; the lone SP MLA Rajesh Shukla (Bijawar seat); and Rana Vikram Singh, the independent legislator from Susner seat, joined the party.

They were among the seven MLAs (four independents, two BSP and one SP legislator) who had supported the Kamal Nath-led Congress government for 15 months, and then voted in favour of the trust vote of subsequent Shivraj Singh Chouhan-led BJP regime in April 2020.

Among the three MLAs who joined the BJP on Tuesday, the debutant BSP legislator is a former BJP man. Rana Vikram Singh is one of the four Congress rebels who won the 2018 Assembly polls as independents, after being denied ticket by the parent party. Shukla hails from an old Congress family. He was the lone SP candidate to win the 2018 polls.

Welcoming them into the BJP fold, Chouhan said the three MLAs were in contact with him since winning the 2018 Assembly polls and wanted to support a government led by him. But he had decided not to form the government, as he didn't have the numbers.

The new entrants said they joined the BJP, impressed by the development being ushered by the Chouhan government.

With this, the BJP's strength in the 230-member Vidhan Sabha will increase to 130, against Congress' 96, three independents and a suspended BSP MLA.

Cow's That! Officials spar over sick animal

Conspiracy theory got a new definition in Fatehpur district. Just after a letter issued by the officiating district veterinary officer ordering seven vets to take care of a sick cow at the District Magistrate's residence, DM Apruva Dubey said that she never sought any help. She accused the district vet officer and his deputy of hatching a conspiracy against her. "I have been monitoring straw collection, water arrangements and adequate medical assistance at the cow shelters in summers and had found laxities on the part of the CVO and deputy CVO and have already written to seniors recommending action against them," she said.

Elephantine Neglect? BSP sidelines Mishra

Has Satish Chandra Mishra, the powerful national general secretary of BSP and the man Friday of Mayawati, fallen from grace? There was a buzz last week when the BSP released its list of star campaigners for the Lok Sabha bypoll and Mishra's name was missing. After an exodus of big netas in the past few years, Mishra was among few names that would be shadowing the chief. He was the party's spearhead in the 2022 polls, leading its Brahmin outreach. However, the party failed. Also, soon afterwards, his aide Nakul Dubey was sacked for anti-party activities. Since then, Mishra has been conspicuous by his absence from Mayawati's events.

Jharkhand cops put up, remove 'Wanted' posters

MUKESH RANJAN @Ranchi

SOON after putting up posters of wanted protesters at different locations in Ranchi, appealing to people to identify them and inform their whereabouts to the nearest police station, the police removed them. The posters were pasted following directions from Governor Ramesh Bais.

The posters contained names of agitators, who have already been identified, and their photographs. At the bottom, important telephone numbers was also provided, asking people to call on those numbers.

The posters were removed for making some corrections, the police said.

Earlier on Monday, Governor Ramesh Bais summoned DGP Niraj Kumar Sinha, ADG (Operation) Sanjay Latkar along with Ranchi SSP SK Jha at Raj Bhavan and sought a detailed report about the incident, directing them to make the names of the protesters who were involved in the incident, public.

PRAYAGRAJ

HC REFUSES TO HEAR LETTER PETITION OVER DEMOLITION

NAMITA BAJPAI @Lucknow

REFUSING to hear the letter petition filed by a bunch of six advocates challenging the demolition of the house of Javed Mohammad, who was allegedly involved in June 10 violence in Prayagraj, the Allahabad High Court on Tuesday asked the petitioners to file the regular petition in the case for hearing.

Advocate KK Roy, along with five other lawyers, had e-mailed a petition to the Chief Justice of Allahabad High Court on Sunday against the demolition.

According to one of the lawyers, Saeed Siddiqui, the letter petition was filed due to urgency in the case. "Now, a proper petition will be filed before the high court, seeking order for rebuilding of the house of Javed's wife Parveen Fatima. The court would be urged to direct action against Prayagraj Development Authority's (PDA) erring officers who were involved in the demolition of the house," he said.

In the letter petition, the advocates had claimed that the owner of the house was Javed's wife Parveen Fatima, who had received the same as a gift from her parents before her marriage.

It was stated that social activist, Javed Mohammad, was arrested on June 10, and after which, the PDA decided to bulldoze his house in Kareli area at a day's notice.

The property demolished was in the name of Javed Mohammad's wife who had been submitting all the taxes, including water tax and house tax to concerned authorities.

CBI quizzes Abhishek's wife in coal scam

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kolkata

THE Central Bureau of Interrogation (CBI) interrogated TMC MP Abhishek Banerjee's wife Rujira at their Kolkata residence on Tuesday in connection with the coal pilferage scam, a senior officer said.

An eight-member CBI team, which also had a woman officer, reached Banerjee's residence in the morning, he said.

This is the second time that the central agency was quizzing her in connection with the case. The CBI had interrogated her in February last year. Moments before the CBI team arrived that day, Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee had visited her nephew Abhishek's residence.

"We were not satisfied with Mrs Banerjee's replies, hence we are questioning her again," the officer said.

The CBI had last year also interrogated Rujira Narula Banerjee's sister Menoka Gambhir, her husband and father-in-law.

It is alleged that illegal mining of coal was done at leasehold mines of Eastern Coalfields in Kunustoria and Kajora areas. Investigations have hinted towards transactions of ₹1,300 crore, the bulk of which went to several influential people, as per the CBI. The probe revealed that the money was deposited in foreign bank accounts of these influential people through hawala.

Quota protests rear head again in Rajasthan

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

THE Jaipur-Agra national highway remained blocked in Bharatpur on Tuesday as protestors demanding a separate 12% reservation for OBCs continued to agitate for the third consecutive day.

Hundreds of people from the Kushwaha, Maurya, Suryavanshi, Saini and Mali communities have assembled at NH-21 near village Aroda under the banner of the Aarakshan Sangharsh Samiti demanding quota in jobs and higher education.

Vishvendra Singh, tourism minister in the Ashok Gehlot government, dispatched to speak to the agitators, found himself in an awkward situation on Tuesday when nobody came forward for talks.

To ensure law and order, the administration has stopped internet services in four towns of Bharatpur district.

After waiting for the representatives of the protestors for hours, Singh said, "They do not seem to have a leader. If there is a leader, then the doors of a dialogue are open."

When Murari Lal Saini, the convener of the Sangharsh Samiti, sent a list of representatives for talks. Saini said, "I have authorised them, but I will not come for talks."

Singh appealed to the agitaters to start the process for talks. "The elderly and women are sitting there in scorching heat. If someone develops a medical condition, who will be responsible?" Singh asked, appealing to Murari Lal to meet him.

Meanwhile, the police are monitoring the situation through drone cameras.

Costlier ride ahead as tax goes up

Hiring a cab in the state capital is set to get costlier. In its new budget, the Lucknow Municipal Corporation has levied annual tax on commercial vehicles. Besides, the travel agencies will now have to pay a licence fee to the civic body. The end impact will of course have to be borne by the users.
As per the new tax regime, owners of autos, tempos and e-rickshaws will have to pay ₹2,000 per year. Cab owners will have to shell out ₹2,500 annually. SUVs and small goods transport vehicles will be taxed ₹4,000 annually, while mini bus and full-size bus/truck owners will pay ₹5,000 and ₹6,000, respectively.

BIHAR POLITICS

Ripples in JD-U: Jibe at RCP; 4 close to him sacked

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

UNION minister RCP Singh on Tuesday faced scorn from his own party when JD-U parliamentary board chairman Upendra Kushwaha asked him to resign from his ministerial post on moral grounds after his term in Rajya Sabha expires on July 7.

Causing more embarrassment to RCP, Kushwaha said his role in the party has not been decided yet.

The comment came on the day Bihar JD-U president Umesh Kushwaha expelled four leaders close to RCP — JD-U spokesperson Dr Ajay Alok, state party general secretaries Anil Kumar and Bipin Kumar Yadav, and Jitendra Neeraj. They were accused of indulging in anti-party activities.

RCP was the JD-U national president until he was replaced by Rajiv Ranjan Singh alias Lalan Singh after his induction into Union cabinet.

After his Rajya Sabha term expires, RCP cannot hold the minister's post if he does not become a member of either of the Parliament houses within six months.

Meanwhile, after his expulsion, Alok thanked Bihar CM Nitish Kumar and Lalan Singh for "relieving" him from the party.

Meanwhile, RCP has become active on social media. On Tuesday, he thanked Narendra Modi for announcing to recruit 10 lakh people in one-and-a-half years. On Monday, he highlighted the Modi government's achievement for rise in steel production from 2013-14.

Parties ready for triangular battle in Azamgarh

LUCKNOW: With the by-poll for Azamgarh and Rampur nearing, the Bharatiya Janata Party, Samajwadi Party and Bahujan Samaj Party, are reaching out to voters.

Azamgarh, believed to be a bastion of SP, seems poised for a triangular battle as BJP has fielded Dinesh Lal Yadav, popularly known as Nirhaua, in an attempt to woo the Yadav voters, while BSP has fielded Shah Alam alias Guddu Jamali to breach into the Muslim vote bank of SP.

Though Akhilesh has put the bet on Dharmendra Yadav, experts feel that the sailing would not be easy for SP in the wake of the annoyance of Shivpal Yadav and the party's Muslim leadership.

"Shivpal-Akhilesh rift may dent the Yadav vote bank of SP since Shivpal enjoys the sympathy among Yadavs," says Prof AK Mishra, a political scientist. ENS

Month on, Pandit staffers skip duties

FAYAZ WANI @Srinagar

ONE month after the Kashmiri Pandit employee Rahul Bhat was shot dead by militants inside Tehsil Office in Budgam, about 5,500 Pandit employees recruited under PM's job package have stayed away from the government duties to demand relocation to Jammu.

"The targeted killings have caused fear among the community," said a Pandit employee, Ashu Pandita (name changed). "When we fear to move out of the transit camps, how will we work? That's why we are demanding relocation to Jammu till the situation improves in the Valley," he added.

The food and civil supplies department, Ganderbal, had on Monday directed the employees to resume their duties on June 16.

However, Ashu said the order has been withdrawn and the government is likely to take a call after the Amarnath yatra.

"If the yatra passes off peacefully, then the government will decide on resumption of our duties," he said.

Another employee, Ranjan, said those stationed in the Valley are confined to the transit camps. "It is better for the government to relocate us to Jammu for 2-3 years. We will return once the situation improves here," he said.

Need tough measures: J&K security experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Srinagar

CALLING the militancy in Kashmir a "zero-sum game", security experts are calling for action on both internal and external fronts.

Former J&K police chief SP Vaid said recruitment of militants is continuing. "You kill 200 militants in a year and 200 still remain. It is turning out to be a zero-sum game," he said.

As many as 102 militants have been killed in encounters with security forces in Kashmir this year. At the end of 2021, Director General of Police, Dilbagh Singh, said 168 militants were active in the Valley, the lowest since the outbreak of militancy.

However, Vaid questioned the inflow of weapons. "We don't have pistol factories in Kashmir. They are either coming through drones or through infiltration from across the border," he said, asking whether the government has probed how youth are being radicalised, or why they are joining militancy.

According to another ex-J&K police chief, Kuldip Khoda, both internal and external factors should be dealt with head on. "The big question is whether we are satisfied with containing militancy or interested in finishing it," he said, adding, "India needs to be more adventurous militarily to make it costly for Pakistan to continue sponsoring militancy in J&K."

Don't use name for politics: Moosewala kin

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

THE family of Sidhu Moosewala has appealed to political parties as well as individuals to not use the slain singer's name for political or personal motives in the upcoming Sangur Lok Sabha bypolls. The family's appeal came after the Congress started using Moosewala's pictures in their election song to campaign for Dalvir Singh Goldy. Meanwhile, AAP candidate Gurmail Singh said Congress is using Moosewala to seek sympathy votes in the election.

Gurmail Singh, the AAP candidate for the bypolls, said, "A mother has lost her son but it is appalling that the Congress is trying to get mileage from his death. They should resist from using such tactics and hurting the sentiments of his family and fans."

After days of fierce battle, Russians control 80% of Severodonetsk city

All three bridges leading out of city destroyed; mass evacuation not possible now, says guv

LVIV

RUSSIAN troops control about 80% of the fiercely contested eastern Ukrainian city of Severodonetsk and have destroyed all three bridges leading out of the city but Ukrainian authorities are still trying to evacuate some wounded residents, a regional official said Tuesday.

Serhiy Haidai, governor of the eastern Luhansk region, acknowledged that a mass evacuation of civilians from Severodonetsk now is "simply not possible" due to the relentless shelling and fighting in the city . Ukrainian forces have been pushed to the industrial outskirts of the city because of "the scorched earth method and heavy artillery the Russians are using," he said.

"There is still an opportunity for the evacuation of the wounded, communication with the Ukrainian military and local residents," he said, adding that Russian forces have not yet blocked off the strategic city.

About 12,000 people remain in Severodonetsk compared to its pre-war population of 100,000. More than 500 civilians are sheltering in the Azot chemical plant. In all, 70 civilians have been evacuated from the Luhansk region over the past 24 fours, the governor said.

Jan Egeland, the Secretary-General of the Norwegian Refugee Council, one of the aid organisations supplying food to the people there, said the fighting of the past weeks have made regular food distribution impossible.

"The situation is difficult," Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelesnkyy said in a news conference with Danish media. "Our task is to fight back." AP

Britons on death row: UK didn't ask for Russia help

Moscow: The Kremlin said on Tuesday that London had not asked Russia to intervene and help save two Britons sentenced to death by pro-Moscow separatist authorities in eastern Ukraine. "They have not asked," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters. He said that such a request should be lodged with the separatist authorities of the breakaway region of Donetsk that tried Aiden Aslin and Shaun Pinner for fighting with the Ukrainian army. But he indicated that Russia could study such a request. AFP

Kyiv recovers 64 Azovstal fighters' bodies

Kyiv: Ukraine said on Tuesday it had received the bodies of 64 soldiers who died defending Mariupol's steelworks in an exch-ange with Moscow that saw Ukra-ine returning the remains of Rus-sian troops. "Ukraine has recove-red the bodies of 64 heroic Azov-stal defenders for their dignified burial," the Ukrainian reintegr-ation ministry said in a statement. The ministry said the swap took place in the Zaporizhzhia region but did not specify how many Russian soldiers' bodies had been returned. AFP

Azot plant evacuations planned for today: Moscow

MOSCOW

The Russian army said it would establish a humanitarian corridor on Wednesday to evacuate hundreds of civilians from the Azot chemical plant in the city of Severodonetsk.

"Guided by the principles of humanity, the Russian armed forces and the formations of the Lugansk People's Republic are ready to organise a humanitarian operation to evacuate civilians," the Russian defence ministry said on Tuesday.

The humanitarian corridor will be in place between 8am (0500 GMT) and 8pm Moscow time on Wednesday, the defence ministry said, adding the evacuees would be transported to the city of Svatovo in the separatist-held region of Lugansk.

Moscow also urged "militants of nationalist battalions and foreign mercenaries" at the plant to "stop senseless resistance" and lay down their arms.The Russian army said that Ukrainian authorities requested that civilians from the Azot plant be transported to Kyiv-controlled Lysychansk but said that the evacuation there was not possible because the last bridge linking the cities had been destroyed. Biden signals US-Saudi thaw with plan to meet prince on Mideast trip

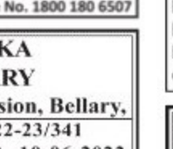
WASHINGTON

US policy seeks recalibration of relations, not rupture

Biden's meeting with MBS will mark a controversial policy shift. "We can expect the president to see the crown prince," a US official said, while rejecting the notion that Biden was retreating from his principles. US policy demanded recalibration of relations" after the Khashoggi murder, "not a rupture," the official said. The official pointed out that Saudi Arabia has been a strategic US partner for eight decades and is home to some 70,000 Americans.

US PRESIDENT Joe Biden will meet with Saudi Arabian Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman next month, abandoning efforts to ostracise the kingdom's de facto leader over the horrific murder of a dissident.

The White House ended weeks of speculation on Tuesday, announcing that Biden will travel to Israel, the Palestinian West Bank, and Saudi Arabia from July 13-16 — his first trip to the Middle East since taking office. In addition to meetings with individual leaders in all three places, he will attend a regional Gulf Cooperation Council summit in Saudi Arabia.



Biden is expected to press for increased Saudi oil production, in the hope of taming spiraling fuel costs and inflation at home ahead of midterm congressional elections in which his Democratic party risks a drubbing. But his meeting with the crown prince, often referred to as MBS, will mark a controversial shift. As a presidential candidate, Biden said the 2018 murder and dismemberment of Jamal Khashoggi — a Saudi-born US resident known for writing critical articles about the kingdom's rulers for The Washington Post — had made the country a "pariah." US intelligence findings released by the Biden administration identified MBS as the mastermind of the operation.

The White House sought to play down the encounter, not specifically mentioning MBS in its statement.

Pressed by reporters, White House Press Secretary Karine Jean-Pierre said "the president is going to see over a dozen leaders on this trip... We can expect the president to see the crown prince as well."

Saudi Arabia's statement was more direct, noting simply that Biden would meet with King Salman and then the young heir to the throne.

Meanwhile, John Kirby, a White House foreign policy spokesman, told MSNBC on Tuesday that oil production "absolutely... is going to be part of" Biden's discussions in Saudi Arabia. But while the White House also confirmed that "energy security" will be a topic, officials stressed that the whole trip has broader aims.

Biden's multiple leader-level engagements during the brief yet intense journey will demonstrate "the return of American leadership" to the region, a senior US official said. The tour starts with meeting Prime Minister Naftali Bennett in Israel, with emphasis on the lavish US support for Israel's armed forces. That includes the Iron Dome anti-rocket system at a time of tension over ongoing failure to resurrect an international pact curtailing Iran's nuclear development. Biden will meet Palestinian president Mahmud Abbas, the US official said. AFP

UK defends Rwanda migrant deportation

London: The UK government on Tuesday defended its controversial policy to send asylum seekers to Rwanda, even as the entire senior leadership of the Church of England branded it shameful and immoral. Foreign Secretary Liz Truss insisted the first flight to Kigali would take off no matter how many people were on board. According to the charity Care4Calais, only seven migrants are expected to be deported on Tuesday night. AFP

TotalEnergies to buy 25% stake in Adani New

Centred on green hydrogen, partnership will compete with RIL, which pledged to invest ₹75,000 cr in green energy

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

ADANI and France's TotalEnergies have inked partnership to jointly create the world's largest green hydrogen ecosystem, making this the fourth such investment by the French major in Adani Group.

The partnership involves TotalEnergies acquiring 25% minority interest in Adani New Industries Ltd (ANIL) from Adani Enterprises Ltd (AEL).

Centred on green hydrogen, the partnership would compete with Reliance Industries, whose CMD Mukesh Ambani in 2021 pledged to invest ₹75,000 crore in green energy initiatives over three years. ANIL's ambition is to invest over $50 billion over the next 10 years in green hydrogen and associated ecosystem.

Shares of Adani Enterprises, the flagship entity of the Adani Group, closed up nearly 6% at ₹2,196.45 apiece on the news.

With this investment in ANIL, the alliance between the Adani Portfolio and TotalEnergies now covers LNG terminals, gas utility business, renewables business and green hydrogen production. In the initial phase, ANIL will develop green hydrogen capacity of 1 million tonnes (MT) per annum before 2030. "The strategic value of the Adani-TotalEnergies relationship is immense at both the business level and the ambition level," said Gautam Adani, chairman, Adani Group. "In our journey to become largest green hydrogen player in the world, the partnership adds several dimensions that include R&D, market reach and an understanding of the end consumer." "This future capacity of 1 MT per annum will be a major step in increasing TotalEnergies' share of new decarbonised molecules including biofuels, biogas, hydrogen, and e-fuels to 25% of its energy production and sales by 2050," said Patrick Pouyanné, chairman and CEO of TotalEnergies. ANIL aims to be the largest integrated green hydrogen player in the world, with presence across the entire value chain, from the manufacturing of renewables and green hydrogen equipment (solar panels, wind turbines, electrolysers, etc.), to large scale generation of green hydrogen, to downstream facilities producing green hydrogen derivatives.

JAPAN

BOJ RAMPS UP BOND BUYING TO DEFEND YIELD CAP, UNDERMINING JAWBONING

The Bank of Japan ramped up bond buying on Tuesday as its yield cap came under renewed pressure from rising global interest rates, highlighting its difficulty in remaining a dovish outlier in a global wave of monetary tightening. The central bank's resolve to keep yields low has helped drive the yen down to 24-year lows against the dollar, as investors have focused on the gap between Japan's ultra-low interest rates and expectations of aggressive hikes by the US Federal Reserve. The BOJ expanded bond buying on Tuesday, and offered to increase a round of purchases across the curve on Wednesday, to knock the yield on the 10-year Japanese government bond (JGB) back to its 0.25% cap. The announcements had mixed effects in suppressing yields on bonds of other maturities. Two-year and 30-year yields eased, but the five-year yield jumped to a level not seen since 2015. Some super-long maturities were also sold heavily, on speculation that the BOJ may eventually adjust its yield targets, distorting the shape of the yield curve.

PAKISTAN

PAKISTAN BUDGET NEEDS ADDITIONAL MEASURES TO MEET GOALS, IMF SAYS

Additional measures will be needed to bring Pakistan's budget for FY2022-23 in line with the key objectives of its International Monetary Fund programme, the lender's resident representative in Islamabad said on Monday. Pakistan unveiled a 9.5 trillion Pakistani rupee ($47 billion) budget for 2022-23 on Friday aimed at tight fiscal consolidation in a bid to convince the IMF to restart much-needed bailout payments. Pakistan's Finance Minister told Reuters on Saturday that the IMF had expressed concerns about the budget numbers, including fuel subsidies, a widening current account deficit, and the need to raise more direct taxes. He, however, added that his government was confident they could adjust the budget to bring the IMF on board and was hopeful of securing a successful review this month. "Discussions with the authorities continue to obtain more clarity on certain revenue and spending items and allow for a full assessment," Ruiz said. She said the fund was ready to continue to support the authorities' efforts and in the implementation of policies to promote macroeconomic stability.

TAIWAN

CONTROLLING INFLATION NOT ONLY ABOUT RATE RISES, TAIWAN MINISTER SAYS

Controlling inflation is not only about interest rate rises and all government departments regularly discuss what other policies to take, Taiwan Economy Minister Wang Mei-hua said on Tuesday, with the pace of price increases at a near 10-year high. Taiwan's consumer price index was 3.39% higher in May than a year earlier. That inflation rate was the highest since August 2012 and exceeded the central bank's 2% target for the 10th consecutive month. Inflation is still slower than in the United States and Europe, however. The government already has put policies in place to help, like cutting some tariffs on imports of raw materials and freezing domestic fuel prices, Wang said. Taiwan's central bank holds its quarterly rate-setting meeting on Thursday. All 19 economists in a Reuters poll expect the bank to raise the rate, with 10 predicting a rise to 1.5% and the other 9 seeing it going to 1.625%. It is currently at 1.375%. "Compared to international control of inflation, Asian countries have taken more measures than Europe and the United States," she said. "The Taiwan government has taken even more."

Govt likely to approve reserve price for 5G spectrum in few days

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government is likely to approve the reserve price for 5G spectrum in next few days.

According to sources, chances are high that the Department of Telecommunication (DoT) would favour building of captive 5G networks for businesses and enterprises.

People familiar with the development said private networks can be set up in smart factories, hospitals, educational institutes, ports, airports and hotels.

"We will soon come up on the 5G spectrum in the next cabinet briefing," said Anurag Thakur, information and broadcasting minister.

The much-awaited 5G spectrum auction, which according to telecom minister Ashwini Vaishnaw, was slated to take place in the first half of June, is being delayed. Many believe the ongoing tussle between telecom operators and private enterprises over captive 5G network is the reason for the delay.

Telecom service providers (TSPs) urged the government not to provide 5G spectrums directly to the private enterprises as it will cause huge loss to the exchequer and also lead to sub-optimal utilisation of this scarce resource. However, the private enterprises refuted such claims and said it (captive 5G network) will in-fact become an additional source of revenue for the government.

> Chances are high DoT would favour captive 5G networks for businesses and enterprises. Private networks can be set up in factories, hospitals, institutes, airports, hotels
>
> Sources

Broadband India Forum (BIF), which has members like CISCO, Amazon, Microsoft and Intel, said there would be no revenue loss to the government on account of direct spectrum allocation as the private enterprises will purchase the spectrum at a price to be fixed by the government. Thus, DoT seems to be in favour of having private 5G networks. This step of DoT will allow big tech companies such as Google, Amazon, TCS and Cisco in building captive 5G networks for businesses and enterprises.

Wholesale inflation rises to record high of 15.88% in May

MONIKA YADAV @ New Delhi

THE Wholesale Price Index (WPI) hit a new high of 15.88% on Tuesday, the Ministry of Commerce data showed.

In April, it was at 15.08%, whereas in the month of May of the previous year, it stood at 13.11%. This is the fourteenth straight month when wholesale inflation is in double digit.

Inflation in May surged sequentially, majorly because of rise in prices of mineral oils, crude petroleum & natural gas, food articles, basic metals, non-food articles, chemicals & chemical products and food products, etc.

Inflation in food articles in May stood at 12.34% as compared with 8.35% in the previous month. It rose majorly because of significant increase in the prices of fruits and vegetables.

Meanwhile, in the fuel and power basket, inflation was at 40.62%.

According to Dr. D.K. Srivastava, chief policy advisor, EY India, said wholesale inflation rate at 15.9% signals continued upward pressure on CPI inflation in the next few months. This inordinately high WPI inflation is driven mainly by two commodity groups namely, primary articles such as food items as well as crude, fuel, and oils.

"Some state electricity boards have recently revised their tariffs upwards. With a high WPI inflation, implicit price deflator (IPD)-based inflation will also be driven up implying buoyant tax revenues in the first quarter of 2022-23," Srivastava said.

"The rise in the WPI inflation, in contrast to the easing in CPI inflation in May 2022, may imbue some caution into the outlook for monetary policy actions. We continue to expect 60 basis point of repo hikes over the next two policy reviews," said Aditi Nayar, chief economist at ICRA.

LIC ups stake in Hero Motocorp, HUL and Capri Global Capital

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

STATE-RUN insurance firm LIC, one of India's largest institutional investors, has increased its stake in non-banking finance company Capri Global Capital, two-wheeler major Hero MotoCorp and FMCG giant HUL.

LIC increased its stake in Capri Global Capital from 5.04% to 7.06% at an average cost of ₹624.61 per share. For acquisition of the additional 2% stake in the NBFC, LIC has invested ₹221.21 crore.

LIC further raised its stake in Hero Motocorp, India's largest two-wheeler maker, from 9.163% to 11.256% during the period from April 1, 2021, to June 13, 2022, at an average cost of ₹3,050.14 and upped its holding in fast moving consumer goods (FMC) giant Hindustan Unilever Limited (HUL) from 4.995 per cent to 5.008 per cent at an average cost of ₹2,206.93.

While Hero Motocorp share prices closed the Tuesday session at ₹2,559.40 on the BSE, HUL stock shut shop at ₹2,174.40 a piece.

The disclosure comes at a time when LIC share prices are under pressure. Even as LIC stock ended in green on Tuesday after falling straight for 10 days, it is still down 23% since its listing on May 17. Its fall has been so steep in the last one month that it wiped out 1.70 lakh crore of investors' wealth. Finance ministry on Monday again expressed concern over its falling share price after it had hit a low of ₹663. Recently, the insurance behemoth had informed that it made ₹42,000 crore worth of realised gains from selling its equity investments in FY22. The gains made last fiscal is 16.6% more than the ₹36,000 crore gains made in FY21, managing director of LIC Raj Kumar said last month. LIC invests nearly 25% of its assets under management (AUM) in equity markets while the remaining sum is invested in government bonds and other instruments.

Female labour participation rises to 25.1% in 2020-21

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

THE all-India female labour force participation rate (LFPR) in usual status has increased 2.3% in 2021 to 25.1% as compared to 22.8% a year ago, shows the Periodic Labour Force Survey (PLFS) annual report for July 2020-June 2021 released on Tuesday.

For rural, female labour force has increased 3% to 27.7%, while urban women participation rate has seen a 0.1 rise to 18.6% as compared to last year.

LFPR is defined as the percentage of persons in the labour force (i.e. working or seeking or available for work) in the population.

The activity status on which a person spent relatively long time during 365 days preceding the date of survey, was considered the usual status of the person.

The overall all-India LFPR for persons of all ages in usual status has increased marginally from 40.1% in 2019-20 to 41.6% in 2020-21.

The LFPR in usual status for persons of age 15-29 years in India is 41.4%, while for persons of age 15 years and above in India, it is 54.9%. At the same time, worker population ratio (WPR) in usual status for persons of all ages in India is 39.8%. WPR is defined as the percentage of employed persons in the population.

Finally, the unemployment Rate (UR) in usual status for persons of all ages in India is 4.2%; In rural regions, it is 2.1% for women and 3.9% for men.

However, in urban areas UR is more for women at 8.6% as compared to male at 6.1%.

HEALTH INSURANCE PREMIUMS UP 10-25% AS CLAIMS DOUBLE

DIPAK MONDAL @ New Delhi

THE health insurance premiums have increased anywhere between 10-25% recently, thanks to higher average claims and increasing healthcare inflation.

Sources from the health insurance sector say average claims over the past two years have gone up from ₹40,000-50,000 to ₹80,000.

Data shared by insurance aggregators with TNIE shows there has been an increase in premiums across all the age groups, with a maximum average rise of 36% in the 18-30 years age bracket. In rest of the age groups, the average increase has been 20-25%. Among those which increased the premium recently include Star Health, Universal Sompo, Manipal Cigna, and Care Health Insurance, claims an insurance aggregator.

Dr S Prakash, MD, Star Health, says that it has increased premium of one of its policies by 8-9%. While he blames the healthcare inflation for the increase in premium, he says that the hike in premium has been lower than the healthcare inflation. He says the average claim size has gone up by 25-30% in case of Star Health. Experts say the rise in premium can be attributed to pent-up backlog.

"Usually, health insurance companies increase the premium every three years. However, during the pandemic, the insurance regulator has barred them from raising the premium. So, a lot of recent hikes are due to that as well," says an industry insider who refused to be named.

Hiring outlook at 8-year high in Q3; talent shortage persists

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

LABOUR market is indicating the highest net employment outlook in 8 years during the third quarter of 2022, according to the ManpowerGroup Employment Outlook Survey released on Tuesday.

Nearly 63% employers expect to increase their staffing levels while 12% anticipate a fall in hiring intent and 24% do not anticipate any change, resulting in a seasonally adjusted net employment outlook of over 51%, a record high in 8 years, says the report. When compared to the same period last year, hiring sentiments have improved by 46%, while there is a 13% growth when compared to the last quarter.

In terms of sectors, companies in IT, technology, telecom, communications and media report hiring outlook of 68%, followed by banking, finance, insurance and real estate sector (60%). There's also a massive talent shortage being witnessed with 83% of employers surveyed finding it difficult to fill open positions. Hiring optimism is being tempered by the highest levels of global talent shortages in 16 years, says the report. Organisations are finding it difficult to get the right candidates with the required skill sets for professions including IT & data, sales & marketing, operations & logistics, manufacturing & production and administration & office support skills. Sandeep Gulati, Managing Director, ManpowerGroup India said, "Despite rising inflation and geopolitical instability, there is a positive sentiment across sectors in India in a bid to speed up the recovery process and sustain the economic growth of the country."

CCI approves Air India's acquisition of AirAsia India

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE Competition Commission of India (CCI) has approved acquisition of entire shareholding in Air Asia India by Air India. The approval comes at a time when Tata Group is consolidating its airline business.

"CCI approves acquisition of shareholding in AirAsia India by Air India, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Tata Sons," CCI tweeted on Tuesday. Tata Group, which acquired Air India (AI) last year and took over its operation in January this year, plans to have AI as its flagship carrier and merge the low-cost airlines AirAsia India and AI Express. Tata Group also operates Vistara in a 51:49 joint venture with Singapore Airlines. As per industry sources, Vistara will continue as a separate carrier for the time being even as talks between its stakeholders is underway.

Bajaj Auto defers its share buyback plan, company's stock falls 5%

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

TWO-WHEELER and three-wheeler maker Bajaj Auto has deferred its share buyback plan, which was brought before its board for consideration on Tuesday.

"We wish to inform that the board of directors of the company at its meeting held today i.e. June 14, 2022, has decided that further deliberations are required in order to take a decision on the proposal of buyback, and accordingly deferred the matter," said Bajaj Auto in a regulatory filing.

On June 9, the Pune-based company had informed stock exchanges that its board will consider a proposal for buyback of fully paid-up equity shares at a meeting to be held on Tuesday. Following its deferment of the plan, share price of Bajaj Auto fell 7.13% to ₹3,603.75 before closing at ₹3,684.40 apiece on the BSE, down 5.06% from previous day closing. Currently, Religare Broking has buy call on Bajaj Auto with a target price of ₹4,290. Share buyback is a process when a company buys its own outstanding shares to cut the number of shares available in the open market. If it goes ahead with a buyback plan, it would be the first in 22 years. It had in September 2000 made an offer to buyback nearly 18 million shares at ₹1,400 per share. Meanwhile, Bajaj Auto on Tuesday said Shekhar Bajaj has tendered his resignation as a non-executive director of the company due to health issues.

CHANGING LANDSCAPE AS MONOPOLY ENDS

With several parties coming together for the broadcast and streaming of IPL, audience will have choice of picking where to watch

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

AS the Indian Premier League media rights e-auction came to a halt after three days on Tuesday, the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI) has got richer by ₹48,390 crore (USD 6.20 billion). In the end, the IPL, apart from continuing its association with Disney Star also welcomed on board Viacom18 joint-venture and Times Internet as television and digital partners for the 2023-27 five-year cycle.

With the auction having two different parties (Times Internet has overseas rights), the IPL and the Indian viewers are entering an unchartered territory.

Since the inception of the League in 2008, Sony and Star have enjoyed monopoly when it comes to television and digital space. With the BCCI opting for a new formula this time, that monopoly has ended. The Indian sub-continent audience, now are in a position to choose the platform on which they would like to watch the IPL.

Given all the growth the IPL has witnessed over the years, the need to cater the product to a family audience meant, when compared to other global leagues like the National Football League, English Premier League and the NBA, the broadcast has seldom been equitable. Every IPL season, apart from inconsistent umpiring, it is the commentary that faces the maximum backlash on social media. For a league that has positioned itself in the global arena, the broadcasting aspect, especially the commentary remains at a level where there is huge scope of improvement.

With the BCCI picking the commentators for the world feed, unless Disney Hotstar and Viacom18 are given an opportunity to assemble their own team, little is going to change. But in the previous cycle, the Select Dugout show on Star Sports Select HD and the vernacular languages — especially Tamil — proved to be a hit among fans. Sans the noise and the prefix to use the sponsor's name for a boundary, six, new ball and slog overs, they were a lot more analytical and also brought the fun element that one expects for a family audience.

"Commentary is irrelevant. The IPL audience is different," said Prahlad Kakkar, India's premier ad film director.

"They don't watch other sports. If you watch other events, obviously you would say the IPL is amateur and not as good as western world. But they will catch up at some stage because to get ad revenue they need to get eyeballs. And to get eyeballs, you need to up the ante. People now have a choice. It is not one single cake and everyone is going to compete internally. They will try and enhance the viewing model."

With Viacom18 JV picking the digital space, it would be interesting to see how the viewership and advertisement dynamics change, with Disney Star taking care of the television side. Kakkar believes Viacom is going to change the landscape.

"What is going to happen is Viacom18 will be powerful in broadcasting the digital side of the IPL as they have deep pockets. You can watch the IPL on phone or a tab and they are ready for that kind of leap. At one time people would say there are so many people in India who don't watch anything digital or do business digitally. Covid has totally scrambled the whole thing. If you are not digitally connected, you are isolated. So be it Tier II or Tier III cities, everyone is digitally connected while on the move. So Jio and Viacom are trying to tap on that substantial digital market," he said.

While Disney Star will pay ₹57.5 crore per match, Viacom18 by going hard for Package C will be paying ₹58 crore per match for digital viewing.

Fisherman's daughter from TN set for Rowing WC

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

TILL July 2019, Rose Mastica Meril, the youngest of three daughters of a fisherman from Kanyakumari (Tamil Nadu), was not into any professional sport. It all began when rowing coach Bhaskar Reddy spotted her during a talent hunt programme under Khelo India scheme. Given her tall frame, the coach picked Rose for training at the Shri Ramachandra Water Sports Centre (SWSC). The Covid-19 pandemic, however, put brakes on her grooming in February next year. The lockdown meant she could only resume training in September 2021. But the limited training didn't matter as the Tamil Nadu girl won double sculls silver in junior national championships and followed it up with bronze in Women's Four at the senior nationals held early this year.

The performance also earned her a place in the national camp. The 18-year-old rower is expected to add yet another feather to her cap as she is in the Women's Eight team selected for the 2022 World Rowing Cup 2 scheduled in Poznan, Poland. Incidentally, this will be the first time since 2009 when any Indian women's team will compete at the World Cup. A 40-member national team will participate in the event slated from June 17 to 19. It comprises 29 rowers, six coaches, three support staff and two RFI delegates. They had already reached the venue. "My father Alphonse Raj always supported me. The lockdown derailed our training at the centre but we trained hard as soon as relaxations were announced," the rower told this daily from Poland.

Praveen sets meet record, ready for bigger leap

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai

WHEN they introduced the triple jump finalists on the final day of the national inter-state athletics championships on Tuesday, it was hard to miss Praveen Chitravel. He had a white band covering his entire forehead. He would later say it was to add "gethu (swag)" to his look.

One could also say that he added swag, that sprinkling of magic to an event that had promised a lot when the start-lists were announced. All four of Eldhose Paul (season's best of 16.99m), Abdulla Aboobacker (17.19m) Praveen (16.84m) and Karthik Unnikrishnan (17.10m) had breached the 16.80m territory. With competition for places at an all-time high — as the Athletics Federation of India (AFI) would not be able to send four athletes in one event — the event promised fireworks.

It was amply provided by the Tamil Nadu athlete, whose 17.18m broke the meet record. The jump also enabled him to qualify for the World Athletics Championships in Eugene next month. He also became the fourth Indian in history to breach the 17.15m mark. Remarkable considering he hadn't trained all that much over the last two weeks thanks to a heel injury. "During training too, we didn't jump too much," he said.

Smart work is something that the young jumper has been doing ever since he broke out when he won bronze at the Youth Olympics in 2018. Since then, he's set a string of personal bests. But the critics have not left him alone. He has won myriad medals at the junior level but the returns at the senior level has been a trickle. "The only thing I wish to tell my critics is 'thank you very much'," he said.

Southpaws steal the show

Two left-handed openers, from Mumbai & Madhya Pradesh, made stellar tons on Day 1 of the Ranji Trophy semifinals in Bengaluru on Tuesday. A look...

JAISWAL TON

Continuing his good form, left-handed batter Yashasvi Jaiswal hit a hundred to propel Mumbai to 260/5 against Uttar Pradesh. Jaiswal, who struck his maiden first-class ton in the quarterfinal, anchored the innings. Sent into bat, Mumbai lost in-form skipper Prithvi Shaw (0) in the very first over to Yash Dayal. Uttar Pradesh bowlers were on top in the first session. As pacer Shivam Mavi trapped Armaan Jaffer (10), Jaiswal added 63-runs with Suved Parkar (32) and pulled the team out of trouble. However, Dayal broke the partnership, dismissing Parkar. Sarfaraz Khan (40) put up an 87-run stand with Jaiswal before getting out. Jaiswal was dismissed soon after reaching the three-figures mark.

Brief Scores: Mumbai 260/5 in 87 ovs (Jaiswal 100; Dayal 2/35) vs UP.

HIMANSHU SHINES

Against a star-studded Bengal side, wicketkeeper-batter Himanshu Mantri stood up for Madhya Pradesh, taking his side to 271/6 on Tuesday with an unbeaten 134. MP lost Mantri's partner Yash Dubey early to Mukesh Kumar. Shubham Sharma and Rajat Patidar, too, did not last long and MP were down to 72/3. While Mantri tried to revive the innings with skipper Aditya Shrivastava, the latter got out for 10 runs to Shahbaz Ahmed. MP were 97/4. However, Akshat Raghuwanshi, who was a part of the U-19 World Cup winning side earlier this year, joined hands with Mantri to join the rescue act. They added 123 runs for the fifth wicket, taking MP past the 200-run mark.

Brief scores: Madhya Pradesh 271/6 in 86 ovs (Himanshu 134 n.o, Raghuwanshi 63; Mukesh 2/45) vs Bengal.

Indian cities rise in global startup ranks: Report

TECHNOLOGY

LONDON: Bengaluru held on to its record trend of attracting technology investments and other Indian cities such as Mumbai and Delhi and hubs such as Telangana and Kerala are also making a mark on the global startup ecosystems charts, according to a new research released at London Tech Week 2022 on Tuesday.

Research from DealroomCompany for London & Partners, London's business growth agency, showed that Bengaluru is the leading Asian city and fifth-ranked hub in the world for tech venture capital investment in 2022.

A separate 'Global Startup Ecosystem' report from Startup Genome found that the Asian scenario in the sector once dominated by Beijing, Singapore, Hong Kong, and Korea is now being considerably disrupted by the likes of Bengaluru, Mumbai, and Delhi.

While Bengaluru ranked 22nd in the global startup ecosystem index due to major improvements in its market reach and access to funding, Delhi moved up an impressive 11 places coming in at No. 26, with Mumbai at No. 36.

'It's fantastic to see startup growth across the whole of India as this creates lots of opportunities for collaboration with London,' said Hemin Bharucha, Director of India for London and Partners.

Air pollution reduces life span by five years

As per the WHO guidelines issued last year, average annual PM 2.5 concentration should be no higher than 5 micrograms per cubic metre

ENVIRONMENT

NEW DELHI: Air pollution is the greatest threat to human health in India and the average Indian resident is set to lose five years of life expectancy if the WHO guidelines are not followed, according to the Energy Policy Institute at the University of Chicago's (EPIC) Air Quality Life Index (AQLI) released on Tuesday.

The residents of Delhi, the most polluted mega city in the world with the average annual PM2.5 levels exceeding 107 micrograms per cubic metre or more than 21 times the WHO guidelines, stand to lose 10 years of life expectancy if the current air pollution level persists, the report said.

According to the new World Health Organization guidelines issued last year, the average annual PM2.5 concentration should be no higher than five micrograms per cubic metre. It was 10 micrograms per cubic metre earlier. Measured in terms of life expectancy, the AQLI shows that ambient particulate pollution is consistently the world's greatest risk to human health. Globally, air pollution reduces 2.2 years of life expectancy, relative to a world that follows the WHO guidelines. This impact on life expectancy is comparable to that of smoking, more than three times that of alcohol use and unsafe water, six times that of HIV/AIDS and 89 times that of conflict and terrorism.

"Of all the countries in the world, India faces the highest health burden of air pollution due to its high particulate pollution concentrations and large population," the report said.

"Since 2013, about 44% of the world's increase in pollution has come from India, where the particulate pollution level has increased from 53 micrograms per cubic metre to 56 micrograms per cubic metre—roughly 11 times higher than the WHO guidelines," it said.

The average annual particulate pollution in India has increased by 61.4% since 1998, leading to a further reduction in the average life expectancy of 2.1 years. The study attributed the rise in air pollution in India to the industrialisation, economic development and population growth over the last two decades, which have led to a skyrocketing energy demand and fossil fuel use.

All of India's 130 crore people live in areas where the annual average particulate pollution level exceeds the WHO guidelines. More than 63% of the population live in areas that exceed the country's own national air quality standard of 40 micrograms per cubic metre

MOST POLLUTED AREA

The Indo-Gangetic plains, home to more than 50 crore people or about 40% of the country's population, is the most polluted region in India, with an annual average PM2.5 concentration of 76.2 micrograms per cubic metre in 2020. The study said "510 million residents of Indo-Gangetic plains are on track to lose 7.6 years of life expectancy on average if current pollution levels persist. Residents of Lucknow stand to lose 9.5 years of life expectancy"

Instagram beefs up child protection measures

TECHNOLOGY

PARIS: Social media giant Meta said on Tuesday it was rolling out a slew of measures to boost the safety of young users on its Instagram platform, the latest firm to address the issue.

Campaigners have long criticised tech giants for failing to protect teenagers from harmful content, and the popularity of Instagram with young people has placed it firmly in the firing line. Meta, which also owns Facebook and WhatsApp, said parents and guardians would be able to set time limits on children's scrolling on Instagram.

And young users would now see nudges encouraging them to look at other subjects if they are spending too much time looking at content about a single topic. "It is crucial for us to develop tools that respect the privacy and autonomy of young people while involving parents in the experience," said Clotilde Briend of Meta during a media briefing.

Instagram was rocked last year by revelations from whistleblower Frances Haugen that suggested executives were aware the platform could harm the mental health of young users, particularly teenage girls. Meta has consistently denied the claims but has since faced a series of grillings in US Congress and suggestions that regulation could be on the way. Other apps, including video-sharing platform TikTok, have also been criticised over fears young people were finding it hard to tear themselves away from the content.

Last week, TikTok announced young people would get nudges to remind them to take a break from scrolling—similar to an Instagram feature that has already been rolled out. On Tuesday, Meta also announced new measures for its virtual reality headsets.

FACT OF THE MATTER

Massive floods wipe out roads

DISASTER

Massive floodwaters ravaged Yellowstone National Park and nearby communities Monday, washing out roads and bridges, cutting off electricity and forcing visitors to evacuate. All entrances to Yellowstone were closed due to the deluge, caused by heavy rains and melting snowpack, while park officials ushered tourists out of the most affected areas. There were no immediate reports of injuries, though dozens of stranded campers had to be rescued by raft in south-central Montana. Authorities also said they would be assessing a potential "loss of homes and structures" in Montana's Stillwater County. The worst damages happened in the northern part of the Yellowstone and the park's gateway communities in southern Montana. National Park Service photos of northern Yellowstone showed landslide and roads undercut by floodwaters.

EAT PRAY LOVE

After a tragic experience changed his outlook on healthy eating, Akash Sajith co-founded Living Food that specialises in bringing farm-fresh produce to the table

ANILA KURIAN

THE year 2017 was a big one for Akash Sajith. Until then, he was working in a start-up in Bengaluru when he heard the news that both his parents were diagnosed with cancer. He couldn't wrap his head around the fact that though both were extremely healthy, exercised regularly and ate healthy, the Big C got the better of them.

Sajith's father passed away a year later and his mother moved to the US with his older brother for better treatment. Meanwhile, Sajith continued working in Bengaluru while still not being able to process his parents' diagnoses. "After reading a bunch of medical journals and reports, I realised that most of the food we consume is contaminated with pesticides. Honestly, the numbers on the reports were so scary that I was too nervous to eat anything," he tells CE, adding that he soon realised the inaccessibility to fresh and organic food in the country.

He came up with the idea of converting one of his bedrooms in his HSR home to grow leafy vegetables. "I know it sounds crazy but I started growing our regularly used greens in my bedroom and started consuming them. Eventually, they grew so much that I had to give some away to people. After a point, one of my friends suggested that we start a subscription-based service to deliver organic food," he says. And thus, Living Food Company was born in 2018.

In the last four years, the company has advanced extensively, clocking a 600 per cent growth in just the last six months: they started off with leafy vegetables, but now they have expanded to fruits, other vegetables, and even bakery products, all organically sourced or made. The customers prefer ordering online, and the products are then delivered fresh. "Ice apple or nungu is something many of our customers look forward to in the year. We've tied up with vendors from Tamil Nadu to supply this for us." Thanks to this and other similar initiatives, the vendors are making more money than they would have otherwise.

frankly speaking

Sajith has grand plans for his company, which include branching out of Bengaluru and hitting other cosmopolitan cities in the country. Mumbai is one of the cities on his mind for now, but there is no concrete plan as of yet. With his wife Shikha Lakhanpal being the other co-founder of the company, they sometimes find it difficult to keep their work-lives separate from home. But then again, he admits that it doesn't feel like work at all.

TRIM YOUR HAIR WOES AWAY

Good diet, regular trimming and a good shampoo and conditioner are tips for basic hair care, says hairstylist Rod Anker, who has worked with celebrities like Kylie Minogue and Anushka Sharma

MONIKA MONALISA

"Hair is everything... It's the difference between a good day and a bad day." That's what actor Phoebe Waller Bridge famously said in her series Fleabag. And celebrity hair stylist Rod Anker knows exactly how to make it a good day, by perfectly understanding the hair language. Anker, who was in the city on Tuesday for a hair show, Kaleidoscope, presented around 10 new hairstyles. The show also had actor Nabha Natesh as the show-stopper.

The show had a new range of colours by Streax which was launched in the Indian market. Even as an A-lister in the world of hair styling, Anker says one of the secrets of getting an immaculate hairstyle is getting the basics right. "A little bit of everything — trend, texture of the hair or the event – needs to be considered when it comes to deciding the style. The model and the hair dictate the end result," says Anker, who has styled celebrities like Kylie Monouge and Vaani Kapoor.

But what the Delhi-based stylist couldn't stress enough is haircare, which comes above any kind of styling. "A lot of people want instant results when it comes to haircare and it really doesn't work like that. Get the basics right and be persistent. Most people overdo it but simplicity is best," explains Anker, who is originally from Melbourne.

With the monsoons round the corner and people stressed about their haircare routine, Anker has some easy tricks up his sleeves to protect your hair. "Trim your hair every 6-8 weeks, don't over use heating tools, get yourself a great shampoo and conditioner," says Anker, advising sulfate-free shampoo that's gentle, followed by a conditioner that will tightly close the cuticle.

Anker, who began his journey in hair styling at the age of 16, did a four-year course in hair styling. "I continuously upgraded myself with the craft and have not stopped since," says Anker.

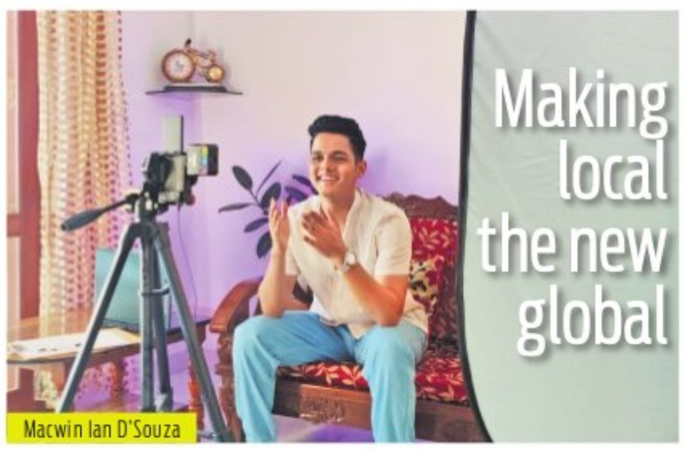
Breaking into social media with Kannada content are these creators, who are producing relatable material

SMRITI S & THRUPTHI RAMESH BHATT



THERE is no way one hasn't stumbled upon Raghu Vine Store, Anu Karagada, MacMacha, MetroSaga, and Vadiraj Babaladi on their Instagram feed. These creators have garnered thousands of followers just by making digital content on platforms like Instagram, Facebook and YouTube in their mother tongue, Kannada, while making it sound relatable to the younger generation. We already know many of them by their aliases, but here we meet the real people who are rocking it on social media.

Raghu Gowda, popularly known as Raghu Vine Store, is a former Bigg Boss contestant and has over 4,58,000 followers on Instagram. "No one had an idea that content could be made in Kannada on Instagram," says Gowda, who is one of the pioneers of content in Kannada. The IT professional-turned-content creator believes that Kannada content shouldn't be restricted to movies or literature but could be put out on digital platforms. In the beginning, he was advised to make content in English or Hindi to reach a wider audience, but he dedicated himself to create videos in Kannada, which proved to be a huge success. "I create characters that are you and me. I have my own multiverse of madness on the internet," he adds.

Macwin Ian D'Souza aka 'Mac Macha' is another household name in Karnataka. His far-reaching and diversified content on Bengaluru's culture has more followers than ever before. "I lived most of my life in Bengaluru and the culture of this city defines who I am," says D'Souza, whose forte has been creating content that is relatable to Bengaluru residents and Kannada speakers. "It's not a conscious decision to create regional content," he says, adding, "But it naturally flows out of me."

Vadiraj Babaladi, another digital creator from Belgaum, hails from a family of theatre artistes. Influenced by regional culture, he started his journey by making videos on YouTube with his friends. With the pandemic limiting their gathering, he had to branch out for a solo launch.

Babaladi's videos are in the unique northern Karnataka dialect, which has always piqued the interest of residents from the south. "South Kannadigas like our (North Kannada) accent. The slang may sound rude but it is fun and nice to hear," says Babaladi.

Anu Karagada, a model and content creator, is the prodigy of turning daily life scenarios into minute-long videos. She has garnered over 3,84,000 followers on Instagram with her laugh-at-life humour. Scenes from college, workplace, neighbourhood, childhood — she presents them all with a dash of humour and a whole lot of Kannada. "What Karnataka or Bengaluru needs more is Kannada content creators... at least in comedy," she says. Just like any other digital content creator, Karagada aspires to become a pan-India artiste. She says, "I hope someday, even Kannada creators will reach greater heights. And I'm pretty sure soon we'll do that."

Metrosaga is not a single person, but a team of both in-house and freelance creators who create Kannada content. "We founded it with an intent to create good-quality content in Kannada which was missing," says Shri Nag, founder and content head.

Going local comes with its own challenges when catering to a pan-India audience. "With Kannada videos, we cannot entertain Telugu, Tamil, Hindi audiences completely. So, we subtitle our videos in English. This is the challenge in creating content which is spoken locally," adds Nag.

FIT BIT

PHALAKASANA KNEES BENT

(PLANK POSE KNEES BENT)

In this pose, emphasis is on all the muscles, with special focus on the core and shoulders. It can be used in pulsating movements – one can pulsate the upper body like an arm pushed up with the knee and curled feet to support the lower body, gaining strength in the arms and shoulder. One can keep the steady arms, knee support and pulsate the legs up and down for quadriceps and hamstring strength.

STEPS

- Start in Balasana Utthita Hasta (Downward Facing Hero Pose) and take a couple of breaths. You can feel the complete spinal and arms stretch.
- Inhale and lift the buttocks, hips; firm the palms on the mat and move the lower body towards the arms. Be conscious of curling the feet here for support. Don't lift knees off the floor.
- Align the arms and shoulders, perpendicular to the wrists. Don't lock the elbows, but distribute the upper body weight on the forearms and palms.
- Tuck the tummy slightly in, creating core strength. When the shoulder blades expand, the arms strength increases.
- Holding the breath, keep the palms a little soft. If the palms take all the weight, the elbows get locked and the weight is not evenly distributed to the forearms.
- Remain in the pose with steady calm breaths for as long as you can.

By N Elumalai, PhD scholar (Yoga Science) at Meenakshi Academy of Higher Education & Research, Chennai

BENEFITS

- Muscles around the shoulders, upper arms, forearms, and the wrists are toned and strengthened.
- Quadriceps and hamstrings are stretched.
- Toned arms, legs, glutes and hips with a neutral spine are good components.
- It energises and de-stresses the body.
- Activates the Manipura (Solar Plexus) Chakra.
- Good for runners, athletes, teens and sportspersons.
- Enhances blood circulation in the spine.

LIMITATIONS

- People with injuries or surgeries in the arms, wrists, ankles, shoulders, knees, feet, abdomen, hips or spine, should avoid this.
- Yoga experts must educate practitioners on breath awareness.
- People with trauma anxiety, carpal tunnel syndrome, arthritis, knee pain, pregnant women, kids and senior citizens avoid this.

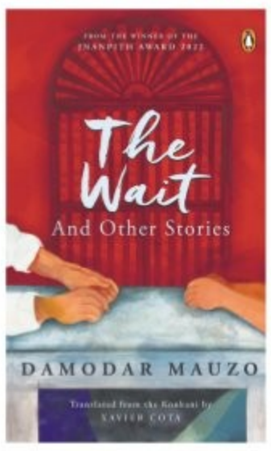
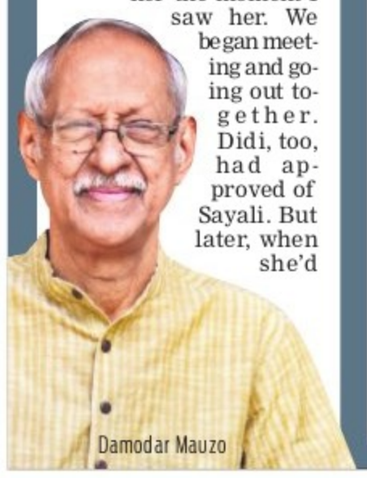
'I HAD SPOKEN IN THE HEAT OF THE MOMENT'

TURNING PAGES



I COULDN'T concentrate on work. Sayali needn't have taken Didi's words to heart. It's not like I ever said anything to her. Did she think that I had prompted my sister to speak? It's possible. But then, she should have sought a clarification from me, which she didn't. That's carrying self-respect and pride too far. Should I have met her and explained things? The problem would have been solved then and there.

Problem? Didi must have been bothered about these questions. But shouldn't she have asked me for the explanation? Sayali's proposal had, in fact, been brought by Didi's husband, my brother-in-law. I'd liked her the moment I saw her. We began meeting and going out together. Didi, too, had approved of Sayali. But later, when she'd asked around, she came to know about the 'affair' from her college days.



Damodar Mauzo

'Didi, shouldn't you have checked with me before asking her? I knew about it,' I told my sister. 'You were besotted by her. Would you have confronted her?'

'So, you decided?'

'Yes. I asked her directly if my brother deserved damaged goods!' I felt as if I had been stabbed in the heart. I could only imagine what poor Sayali must have experienced. If only Didi had told me that she was going to speak with her.

At first, I didn't even realise that Sayali was avoiding me. She didn't come to meet me at our usual place. She didn't take my calls. Worried, I called her manager. That was when I got the news. 'She says that you guys have broken up.'

Didi phoned to tell me, 'Forget about her now. I will bring better proposals for you, girls more beautiful than her. Don't worry.' Notwithstanding the fact that she was my elder sister, I exploded, 'Be careful, Didi. You misjudged Sayali. And how much do you actually know me? Do you know about my friendship with Sandra in college? Were you okay with that? Several times when the two of us were alone, we came pretty close to each other. Despite suspecting it, why didn't you stop me?'

'But, you're a man ...'

'Shut up, Didi! If a guy does it, it's a conquest. But in the case of a girl it's a scandal? Get this, Didi, I will not marry any girl but Sayali. I will remain a bachelor. And further, from this day on, you will no longer be a part of my life!' Saying this, I disconnected the call. I had spoken in the heat of the moment, but it had come from my heart. I was furious with my sister.

Five months had gone by since then. I was trying to forget Sayali. But the unrelenting memories, it seems, were just waiting for an excuse to resurface.

Why public libraries need to be revived

SOMETHING the British novelist and critic Zadie Smith said about public libraries hit me hard: "Why do we love libraries? Well-run libraries are filled with people because what a good library offers cannot be easily found elsewhere: an indoor public space in which you do not have to buy anything in order to stay."

Ah, but this lovely scenario is more valid if we are talking about public libraries in the West, or at least if we exclude those in our country. In fact, to most of us the word 'library' only evokes circulating libraries where you pay a membership deposit, and a reading fee for each book borrowed. In the US, you can borrow as many books as you wish for free from your local public library. The only money you fork out is for the bus or subway ticket for the ride to get there.

Like most Indians, I was first exposed to a library in school. I had the opportunity to also access my father's railway club library, which meant borrowing one book and reading the magazines (which we were not allowed to take home). When I was growing up, most families bought only textbooks for their children — that is, if they couldn't get second hand ones from their school seniors. Children would haunt libraries mainly to unearth material for class "projects".

Across the world, budgets for public libraries have been dwindling and the newer generation prefers their digital devices to physical books. But the great libraries of the world remain extraordinary environments for scholarship and enlightenment. The Library of Congress in Washington DC is the largest library in the world with over 160 million books. The National Library in Kolkata is the largest in India with over 2 million books. Two impressive coffee-table books, The Library and The Most Beautiful Libraries in the World, are not merely about book collections but also about the buildings that house them. "When a library is open, no matter its size or shape," Bill Moyers wrote in his foreword to The Public Library: A Photographic Essay, "democracy is open too".

State Central Library, Cubbon Park. (Top) The Library of Congress, Washington DC

India has over 70,000 public libraries funded by taxes from local administrative bodies but not every state has a library-legislation in place and only five have levied a library cess on its denizens. Very few states have a dedicated Department of Libraries; most libraries are run by education or arts and culture departments. You don't have to look too hard to discover ill-equipped and poorly-stocked libraries; untrained and underpaid librarians; and books borrowed but not returned, or worse, vandalised.

An older friend, an avid reader who frequents the beautiful State Central Library in Cubbon Park, Bengaluru, was astonished to discover a remarkable inventory of books — not only by European and US authors but also Japanese, Australian, South American and Asian authors! How many school children and collegians know of the treasures that lie within these walls?

I for one feel that libraries should not just be places for people to borrow and read, but to spend their study time, to soak in the ambience, to play, do art, and meet friends. The real benefit of a library is for the less privileged, and above all, for children.

There are 2.6 million functioning libraries in the world, of which 4,04,000 of them are public libraries. In The Library: A Fragile History by Andrew Pettegree and Arthur der Weduwen, the authors state, "A repeating cycle of creation and dispersal, decay and reconstruction, turns out to be the historical norm. And that while growth and decline are part of the cycle, so too is the recovery."

'BAIRAGEE IS AN ADVANCE BIRTHDAY GIFT FOR SHIVANNA'

...says producer Krishna Sarthak, who is happy to have made profits even before the film's release on July 1

CE FEATURES

THE hype surrounding Shivarajkumar's Bairagee, which is slated for a July 1 release, is already high. Producer Krishna Sarthak shared that the commercial entertainer directed by Vijay Milton has already done good pre-release business. "The satellite and digital rights have already fetched over ₹10 crores. Even the Hindi dubbing rights of the film have been sold for a good amount. The kind of demand I'm getting from theatre owners points towards the film making big profits," said the producer at a media interaction.

Fans are waiting to see the Tagaru combination of Dhananjay and Shivanna on-screen. The directorial venture also stars Pruthvi Ambaar, Anjali, and Yasha Shivakumar.

Meanwhile, a grand pre-release event is planned at Chamarajanagar, the hometown of Dr. Rajkumar. "There was only one event held in Chamarajanagar in the presence of Dr. Rajkumar, and this will be the second grand event to take place there. I have got over 1000 messages from people residing in Chamarajanagar to hold the pre-release event, and I'm going by their request," says Krishna, who has also planned a special roadshow, which will begin in Bengaluru and end at Chamarajanagar.

"We didn't want to lose out on the regular belt. So we plan to cover the area between Bengaluru and Mysuru, and pit stop at Bidadi, Maddur, Mandya, and Mysuru where Shivanna and team will be meeting their fans. We also have plans to go to Gajanur, Shivanna's ancestral house before the pre-release event," he adds.

Krishna Sarthak, who is distributing the movie under Jagadeesh Films, says Bairagee is a gift to Shivanna before the actor's 60th birthday, which falls on July 12. With music by Anoop Seelin, Vijay Milton doubles up as the cinematographer.

Ayan Mukerji reveals Mouni Roy's avatar in Brahmastra

CE FEATURES

FILMMAKER Ayan Mukerji on Tuesday shared the motion poster of Mouni Roy from his upcoming film Brahmastra Part One: Shiva. Describing her as the surprise package in the film, Ayan revealed that Mouni's character is called 'Junoon'.

"A lot of people, I think, are going to walk out of Brahmstra, talking about Mouni's Performance as Junoon," he captioned the post. "Mouni - who has deep belief and deep surrender for Lord Shiva - has always understood Brahmstra very naturally - and with that understanding, she really killed it with her part in our movie! My first meeting with her, I offered her a 'special appearance' in Brahmstra. Eventually, she shot with us from our first day to our last schedule, and is really, the surprise package in the film!" he added.

Brahmastra's trailer will drop on Wednesday. Till now, the makers have released a teaser, a song snippet and motion posters of various characters.

Nikitin Dheer to make Kannada debut with Dhruva Sarja's Martin

The multilingual action-entertainer by director AP Arjun has the B-Town actor playing the antagonist

A SHARADHAA

NIKITIN Dheer, a known face in Bollywood for films like Jodha Akbar, Chennai Express, and Ready, is set to make his Kannada debut with Dhruva Sarja's Martin. The multilingual action commercial entertainer directed by AP Arjun will feature Nikitin as the antagonist.

The actor is currently shooting for Martin in the Vizag schedule. The makers, who have announced September 30 as the release date, have been working round the clock towards meeting the target date.

With just the climax portions left for filming, the schedule for the same will begin from July 5. The song sequences will be shot post this schedule, and Arjun has simultaneously begun the post-production.

Martin marks the second collaboration of Dhruva and Arjun after Addhuri. Backed by Uday K Mehta, Martin will be out in Kannada, Tamil, Telugu, Malayalam, and Hindi.
